

"YES; we have more bananas." And they are cheap. The head of the largest distributing company lays it to efficiency of distribution. Distributing bananas is much more delicate matter than distributing most commodities.

They have to be ripened in transit, and this should be watched and regulated so that each bunch will arrive at its particular destination ready for quick sale. Yet, even with these difficulties, bananas, an imported tropical fruit, are one of the cheapest of foods. Distribution, of course, is cheap, because well organized, is cheap.

May we not take a lesson in the distribution of other foods? In many of them, distribution is the main cost. You can get for instance a pound of butter much cheaper than you can enough cream to make a pound of butter. Everybody knows the story of the up-state farmer who put a card in a barrel of apples, saying: "I got ninety cents for these apples; how much did you pay?" Food is cheap, where it is produced. It is dear where it is eaten. The difference is distribution.

And yet those who do that distribution do not make undue profits. It is the system. Perhaps we demand it. If so, we must pay for it. But where any organization puts the same efficiency into distribution that is put into production the result is immediate. Bananas may be worth watching.

STANDARDIZATION has been applied generally to production. But we hesitate to apply that economy to distribution. For instance: There are just three grades of certain canned fruits. Every can of these grades is exactly like every other.

Nobody's "brand" is any better or any worse than any other, except as some brands stand for quality and some for second or third grades. There is no concealment which of these any particular brand is. Yet the very packers themselves put out their goods under a dozen brands of their own, ostensibly competing with themselves, besides the scores of customers' private brands. It is supposed to help "selling."

It certainly does not make saving lost motion in distribution generally. And somebody pays for it.

CONGRESSMAN Walters, of Pennsylvania, who is retiring, proposes Charles M. Schwab, for his successor. Doubtless Mr. Schwab is no more anxious to be congressman than the local politicians are to have him, so the suggestion will get no further.

Tong Warfare Spreads Throughout East

CHINESE DIE AS FEUDISTS' GUNS BELCH

Bloody Conflict Between Hop Sings and On Leongs Resumed with New Fury IGNORE PEACE PACT

Dissatisfaction of Minority Over Treaty Clause Believed Reason for Clash

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Once more war of the tongs has blazed forth in New York's Chinatown. Half an hour after a telephone message had reached the lantern-sung section last night that a Hip Sing man had been shot in Boston, Ho Kee, a cook, was shot to death in the basement of a restaurant.

A police cordon has been thrown about the tangled district of Pell and Mott streets and a score of detectives, along with members of the narcotic squad, has been detailed to the troubled area.

The slaying of Ho Kee was a coldblooded affair. He was talking with several fellow employees of a restaurant when two or three Chinese entered the room. One of the intruders walked over to the cook, placed a revolver against his stomach, and fired.

If, as is believed, the fatal shooting marks a flareup in the old battle of the Hip Sing and On Leong tongs, it will be the first since a truce was declared some time ago after 100 lives had been lost and may become nation wide.

The revival of hostilities is laid to dissatisfaction of a minority over a clause in the treaty which brought the truce. Under the treaty, the Hip Sing tongs, it is understood, were forbidden to organize in certain cities, and the On Leong tongs in other cities.

252 Chickens Gassed By Thieves

LANKERSHIM, Cal., Aug. 25.—Poultry thieves gassed and stole Mrs. Marie Melcher's flock of prize chickens during the night, it was reported to police today. All of the poultry fancier's 252 chickens were submitted to the gas treatment and carted away. Chicken-raising was the woman's only means of livelihood, she told police.

BOMB HOME OF KIN OF OUSTED L. A. TRUSTEE

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—The home of William E. Downs, brother of Charles E. Downs, deposed city councilman, accused of bribery, was partially wrecked early today by dynamite.

A section of the house, situated in a canyon in the Alta Canada district, was demolished. The entire residence was badly shaken. Windows were shattered and doors torn off the hinges.

Downs suffered minor cuts and bruises when he was knocked to the floor by the force of the explosion. Fire which followed the explosion was quickly extinguished by neighbors.

Linking the blast with the local political scandal, police placed a heavy guard around the home of the indicted alderman. Investigating officers said it was probable the dynamiters suspected the former councilman was living with his brother and had designs on his life.

Downs and Joseph Fitzpatrick were ousted from the city council yesterday, following their indictment on charges of accepting bribes of $1000 each from a tunnel company to vote for a moveable sidewalk project.

Investigators from the district attorney's office claim Downs told them that $65,000 had been paid to the city council a year ago to secure favorable action on the tunnel project.

Fight In Klan On Modernism Looms

BUCKEYE LAKE, O., Aug. 25.—An outcropping of the fundamentalist-modernist dispute within the ranks of the Ku Klux Klan was prophesied today as the International Klan council convened in extraordinary session here.

Backed by the Klans of many states, Grand Dragon Clyde W. Osborne, of the Ohio realm, was prepared to propose a campaign to "root agnosticism and intellectual Christianity and restore harmony to the ranks of American Protestantism."

NAVAL PLANE FLIGHTS SET FOR MONDAY

Repairs to Aircraft Necessitate Postponement of Departure for Hawaii INSTALL NEW MOTOR

(By United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Start of the epoch-making flight of three naval seaplanes from this city to Hawaii today stood set for next Monday.

The start originally was scheduled for Friday, but delay in getting the plane here made the time too short to adequately prepare all details for the long hop, it was announced at naval headquarters.

A new motor of 800 horsepower is being installed in the PB-1, the Boeing plane which flew here from Seattle for participation in the trans-Pacific hop. Another motor may be placed in one of the PN-9's that flew here from San Diego.

Repairs are necessary on all of the planes.

The ships which will guard the line of flight were steaming today to their positions, 200 miles apart, across the Pacific, so that the 210-mile flight, the longest in the history of aviation, will be amply protected.

Radio operators on the planes will be in constant communication with the guard ships and the planes will be warned of any change in weather conditions or other deviations from normal flight.

Capt. Stanford Moses, flight chief, stated the flight will start at 2 p. m., either from the smooth waters of San Pablo bay, or from the East bay shore off Berkeley.

The PN-9's weigh 10 tons each and require a mile of clear, shallow water to get off in proper shape.

Hijackers at Lebec Get 40 Cases Rum

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 25.—Hijackers staged a bold holdup of the Lebec hotel, on the Ridge Route, and got away with 40 cases of pre-war liquor, according to word received here today. The liquor was held under government permit by Jack Woolley, one of the hotel proprietors.

SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON TO BE GUEST IN S. A.

Arrangements were completed today by D. Eymann Huff for a luncheon to be given here Thursday of this week for U. S. Senator Hiram W. Johnson of San Francisco, and Frank P. Flint, Los Angeles, former U. S. senator.

The luncheon will be served at Ketter's cafe, at 12 o'clock noon. Senator Johnson has been in Los Angeles for about 10 days, presumably on a political mission having to do with candidacies for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator against Samuel Shortridge and for the Republican nomination for San Diego, against Friend W. Richardson. Locally it could not be learned that the visit in Santa Ana would have anything to do with any such mission.

It was stated that Johnson and Flint were scheduled to pass through Santa Ana Thursday night way for San Diego, and that they were invited to stop here for a brief visit.

Huff stated that those desiring to attend the luncheon should get in touch with Dr. C. D. Ball, W. C. Jerome or himself at once.

WITNESS TELLS OF YOUNG CONFESSION

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—The story of Dr. Thomas W. Young's notorious "confession" to the denials of his wife's murder of his wealthy society wife was related on the witness stand today by Mrs. Dorothy Leopold Mahan, the accused dentist's former assistant.

"I was alone in the district attorney's office with Dr. Young on the morning of June 13," said the pretty witness. "I told him they were digging for Mrs. Young's body near the cabin in Beverly Glen."

"When I told him they had started digging into the clowns in the basement, his hands turned white, and he trembled. Shortly afterward, he broke down and confessed."

Mrs. Mahan's testimony was considered a heavy blow to the defense. The court allowed the evidence over objection of Dr. Young's counsel.

Government Will Do Everything Possible to Insure Fuel, in Case of Strike COOLIDGE GIVES VIEWS

Substitute for Anthracite Offered to Prevent Hardship If Walkout Occurs

(By United Press)
SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., Aug. 25.—The federal government will do everything it can to help provide the public with fuel in case of a cessation of anthracite production, it was said at the summer White House today.

This pronouncement was coupled with the statement that President Coolidge is reassured by the recent statement of John Hays Hammond and the action of the New England states, principal users of anthracite, to use substitutes for fuel purposes.

Hammond's statement was that a strike, if called, could not last long, and that substitutes could be provided to prevent any hardship, either from lack of fuel or stopping of other industries.

Stays By Economy Plan President Coolidge is determined to carry out his plan of economy in government operation.

Mr. Coolidge resents what he regards as Washington propaganda against his economy campaign, it was made clear today and he will not regard with favor requests for further development of the national defense at this time.

Reports from Washington quoting army and shipping board officials as favoring new expenditures, today drew the disapproval of the president.

Mr. Coolidge does not take seriously dispatches from Washington purporting to reveal that the general staff of the army believes that the military forces will be made inefficient if further increases in appropriations are not made. The president has noted that the war department is now spending the about $300,000,000 annually, compared with the pre-war figure of $120,000,000 a year, and he feels that, if the army chiefs believed they could not marshal an efficient defense system on this amount, there is something wrong with them.

Kitten Causes Death of Little Boy

WILMINGTON, Calif., Aug. 25.—A kitten pawed and scratched on the door of its playmate's room here today without response. The kitten, late yesterday was unwittingly the cause of the death of George Mathews, aged 2.

The boy had a habit of pulling the cat's tail and chasing it across the lawn. Yesterday, George and his kitten became so engrossed in the pursuit that the boy failed to notice a neighbor's automobile being backed out of a driveway.

The machine, driven by Mrs. M. Davis, passed over his body. He died a short time later.

BANKER BANDIT WAIVES HEARING IN HUGE THEFT

(By United Press)
DAYTON, O., Aug. 25.—Fred Nickol waived examination and pleaded not guilty when arraigned today on charges of robbing the North Dayton branch of the Savings and Trust company and was bound over to the grand jury under $50,000 bond.

Nickol has confessed to being the "Blue Phantom" who got away with $21,000 in a daring daylight raid.

"I played a lone hand. The hold-up was the child of my own brain. Once started, all the details seemed to have been executed mechanically."

Thus Nickol, 46, bowed his iron gray head on his hands as he sat in his cell here today and told his own story of the spectacular hold-up of the bank, August 14.

"It was money's jangling sound and golden power which drove me to robbery," Nickol said, speaking slowly.

"It was the lack of money which felled me. I sought it to bring me back to my place among my associates."

MESSANGER SHOT IN HEAD NEAR DEATH

Unconscious Man Is Taken From Car When Santa Fe Train Reaches Santa Ana

WORK OF LONE BANDIT Outlaw Believed to Have Fired from Roof; Value Of Booty Is Not Known

MORE THAN 100 police officers, including the best detectives in the state, are scouring Southern California for a train robber, who early last night shot and fatally wounded Elmer E. Campbell, 65, 1441 Echo Park avenue, Los Angeles, mail clerk and American Express train messenger, and then looted the baggage coach of Santa Fe train No. 75, somewhere between Oceanside and Santa Ana.

Campbell is in the Santa Ana Valley hospital dying from a bullet wound in the top of his head. The bullet apparently was fired from a pistol in the hands of a man who was on top of the car.

Mail and mail pouches and an overturned and rifled strong box, on the floor of the car, together with the body of the wounded man, told a mute story when railroad employes opened the coach door at 8:42 o'clock last night, as the flyer pulled into the Santa Ana station.

No Trace of Bandit A man hunt, which drew into it all officers of the county and city, together with officers from a score of towns between here and San Diego, and almost a score of detectives representing the express company and the government, was started immediately, but at a late hour today, no trace of the man or men, responsible had been found.

First information of the robbery and shooting was revealed when James Carter Santa Ana baggage master, attempted to put several sacks of mail and baggage in the car. Unable to arouse Campbell, Carter found the side door unlocked and shoved it back. The inside of the coach was in disorder. Mail bags had been slit open and letters and parcels scattered throughout. Campbell was lying unconscious in a pool of his own blood.

The train was held and the injured man was rushed to the hospital, where surgeons learned that a bullet, apparently from a .45-caliber revolver, had plowed through his brain, striking him in the forehead and ranging downwards, lodging in the head, near the base of the skull. They said he could not live and refused to probe for the bullet, for fear of sooner ending his life.

Shot in Cold Blood That Campbell was shot from above, in cold blood, without a single chance to defend himself, was learned by a minute inspection of the outside of the car. The man who fired the shot, and who officers believe was alone in the robbery, kicked a ventilator out of the top of the car, in the rear of where Campbell was standing, sorting his mail. When the messenger turned to see the cause for the crash of glass, he was shot.

After shooting the messenger, the bandit, who had equipped himself with an improvised rope ladder, let himself down the side of the car to the side door. He then kicked out the glass, and opened the door by reaching inside.

Believe Was Premeditated. The robbery was premeditated, including the shooting, Los Angeles detectives declare, basing their belief on the fact that the man had equipped himself with the ladder. Two meat hooks, fastened into the end of the ropes on one end, were hooked over a railing on the top of the car. The ladder was found hanging from the coach soon after the wounded man was discovered.

TALKING MOVIES PROVE SUCCESS IN LOS ANGELES THEATER DEMONSTRATION

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Talking movies were successfully demonstrated to 25,000 persons here last night. A radio-picture, synchronizing the voice with the pictured movements of the actors, was presented simultaneously to audiences in 14 local theaters.

The experiment was proclaimed a complete success, from both the viewpoint of the spectators and the radio and film executives who staged the demonstration.

Three Lose Lives In Auto Accidents

WOMAN'S HEAD WILL BE REBUILT BY SCIENCE TO DETERMINE HER IDENTITY

(By United Press)
MARTINEZ, Calif., Aug. 25.—Scientific reconstruction of fragments of a woman's head, found in the swamps near El Cerrito, was planned by Contra Costa county authorities seeking to identify the victim. Belief that the woman was murdered by a skilled surgeon, who then dismembered the body and sought to hide the crime by scattering the pieces through the swamp, coincided in some details with the theory of the family of Mrs. J. J. Loren, 30, blonde divorcee, that she might have been the victim. It was reported she disappeared from her Oakland home after visiting a San Francisco doctor.

Dr. Lewis T. Corwin, Oakland dentist, partially identified dental work found in a lower jaw recovered from the marsh as having been done by him for Mrs. Loren. Dr. E. O. Heinrichs, Berkeley criminologist, who figured in the recent Schwartz insurance hoax, attempted to learn the appearance of the victim from the fragments of the body thus far recovered. He announced his belief that the woman was between 21 and 30 years of age, Scandinavian type, fair complexion, about five feet, four inches in height, weight about 125 pounds, an habitual wearer of ear-rings.

Dr. Jekyll And
Mrs. Hyde Seen
Operating Here

Ever hear of a woman Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, or a Dr. Jekyll and Mrs. Hyde?
Well, Santa Ana has one. She was doing her stuff last night, according to a report filed at the police station by an officer who investigated.
A call came from 602 Spurgeon
street that two men and a woman were loitering in the neighborhood.
Police investigated and were told that the woman sat on a curbing in front of 602 Spurgeon street for some time. She was a blonde.
Then she went across the street and sat on the back porch of another home, and lo and behold, her hair was black.
Police have it "doped" out that the woman snatched off a light
wig as she crossed the street.
The woman and the men were both gone when officers arrived.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

STRIKING SUMMER SCARFS
Creation was told in six hundred words. Yet, with due humility, it would be impossible to condense into six thousand the shimmer and splendor of the new summer scarfs in foulard, silks, poplin silks, crepe silks, bandanas, linens,
and even gingham. All the craving for color, which men have long repressed, is centering in their scarfs, now that the lid is off and they may out-rainbow the rainbow and out-sunset the sunset. It is questionable whether the vocif-erously vivid effect one sees today are good style on all men.
They are essentially young men's patterns. They must be properly harmonized or contrasted with shirts. They are more tastefully worn with dark-colored suits. They should not be attempted with too conspicuous effects in handkerchiefs,
or the excess of color strikes a discord akin to that of the Kilkeny cats.

How many summer scarfs
should The Well-Dressed Man own? Observe, that summer scarfs are meant, not just scarfs, for there is as much difference between a summer scarf and a winter scarf as between suits for the two seasons. A summer scarf must be cut of thin,
light silk preferably printed,
not woven, in bright colors. It must suggest coolness and crispness. It must tie into the long, narrow necktie appropriate to go with the attached-collar shirt. It must not look bulky or heavy.
At least a dozen summer scarfs are required. Two dozen are not too many. Cravats are like friends—one more is always welcome. Choose distinctly different colors and patterns for the sake of variety, with a leaning toward blendings of blue, a color that mixes with almost any suit or shirt. If a scarf is intended to here, may have aprons bordered in a solid color matching the color of the figures above.
To give light-weight summer
scarfs more heft and body and to make them take a firmer, more graceful knot, they are frequently lined with silk, a luxurious touch.
The diamond spot and scroll designs sketched alongside are old patterns which are only new in color. When a scarf is taken off,
it should not be laid aside
"as is", but smoothed to remove creases. This preserves its looks and prolongs its life. The finer the silk the more delicate it is
and the greater care it requires.

Local Briefs

Mrs. Ridley C. Smith and sister, Mrs. James T. Shipman, who have been visiting in Santa Ana,
left yesterday for Hope, Ark., following a telegram received announcing the sudden death of their sister, Miss Noreen Mc-Corkle.

Announcements were received in Santa Ana today of the picnic reunion of all former residents of Michigan to be held at Sycamore Grove, park, Los Angeles, on September 19.

A marriage license was issued yesterday in Los Angeles to Richard E. Miles, of Santa Ana,
and Eda Irene Baurer, of Long Beach.

County Clerk J. M. Backs and family have returned from a motor trip of several weeks to Vancouver, B. C. They visited numerous points of interest along the route and toured the Columbia River highway, east of Portland.

A marriage license was issued yesterday in Riverside to Samuel Lozano, 26, Los Angeles, and Hazel Wiley, 26, Irvine.

Members of the Santa Ana Municipal band were unaware that the composer of the opening march which they will play tonight, was in their midst until Director Clamfont announced it last evening during their rehar-sal. Freeman Bloodgood is the composer. Clamfont said he wanted to see "if the boys liked it first." Bloodgood wrote a fictitious name on the manuscript parts.

PRODUCERS TO FIGHT MOVIE
TAX MEASURE

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The greatest fight against state interference in the history of the motion picture industry has been outlined to the United Press by spokesmen for producing companies and distributors.

A new Connecticut tax and censorship law is the crux of the fight, which, in its ramifications, involves a potential loss to the industry of millions of dollars annually, film men declared.

The law provides that no film shall be shown in Connecticut until it has been registered in the state office and a fee paid. The law also makes the state commissioner of taxes censor of all films displayed in the state.

Having unsuccessfully combatted
the measure in Connecticut, motion picture producers now plan to carry the question of its constitutionality to the supreme court of the United States.

The constitution, they say, provides that there shall be no burden upon "free interchange of trade
among states."

Now comes Connecticut with a proposal to tax films that enter the state. According to both state officials and movie producers this tax will net $100,000 annually. But this is the least of the producers' worries.

"If the law stands in Connecticut,
movements will start immediately
in 47 other states to enact similar legislation," one film magnate said.

The film men hope first to obtain a stay of enactment of the tax law in Connecticut. When they will ask the supreme court to declare in Connecticut which is due to the law which the producers and distributors are fighting was passed by the 1925 convention general assembly. It provides that no film shall be shown in the state until it has been registered with the state tax office and a fee of $10 for the first thousand feet and 50 cents for each additional 1000 feet has been paid and the seal of the tax office affixed to the film.

News reels, showing current events, scientific and educational subjects and films to be shown for religious, charitable, educational or patriotic purposes are exempt from the tax but must carry the seal of the tax office before they can be shown.

A fine of $100 or 60 days in jail or both is provided for violation of the law and the offender's license could be revoked.

It is the opinion of counsel for the producers that the Connecticut law is unconstitutional and a dangerous invasion of the film field.
Should it be upheld, they say, there can be only one answer.

The motion picture industry will unite to shut off Connecticut entirely from films and the state will have no "movies" save those that are "bootlegged."

Sheriff Goes To Florida to Get Man Wanted Here

Sheriff Sam Jernigan left here
last night for Sacramento, where he will obtain extradition papers for Fred W. Keller, wanted in Orange county, on an embezzlement charge. He will go from Sacramento to Miami, Fla., where Keller is being held pending the sheriff's arrival.

Expenses of sending the Orange county officer to southern state
are not being borne by the county,
it was learned today, with a statement to the effect that the bonding company, which freed Keller from jail on bond, was paying all expenses.

Sheriff Jernigan collected $500
from the bonding company for expenses before beginning his long trip, it was said.

ESTATE WILL BE CONVERTED TO TRUST FUND

The estate of the late Theodore Roberts, Anaheim theater owner,
will be converted into a trust fund
of at least $100,000 for the benefit of his widow, Mrs. Ella B. Roberts, according to the will which was on file for probate today in superior court.

Making the will six days before his death in Newport Beach, August 19, Roberts directed that the California theater and apartment building in Anaheim, together with various other property he owned in Orange, Los Angeles and Riverside counties, be converted into cash as soon as practicable and placed with the Citizens' Trust and Savings bank of Los Angeles as a trust fund. The fund thus created shall be invested in securities, all real estate security to be located in cities of not less than 250,000 population, the will directs.

The entire income, it was ordered, goes to Mrs. Roberts, no provision being made for the two young sons, Theodore, 12, and Joseph, 10, except in the event of their mother's death before the youngest reaches the age of 40. In that event, each shall receive $150 per month until Joseph is 40, when the trust terminates, and the estate is returned to the heirs.

Alternative provisions are made in the will for the payment of lump sums to the two sons, should their mother die before the youngest is 21 years of age.

The Roberts family lives at 515
West Center street, Anaheim.

The exact value of the estate was not stated in the probate petition.
Income from the Anaheim theater building amounts to $2000 per month, it was said.

Attorneys Rush and McCormick,
Los Angeles, represent the petitioner, Mrs. Roberts.

To Hold Cloyes
Funeral In S. A.
After Inquest

Funeral services for Frank Harris Cloyes, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cloyes, 512 Orange avenue, who was killed Saturday afternoon near Burbank, will be held in the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors here Friday, August 28, at 2 p. m.

Young Cloyes, a student in the California Technical school, Pasadena, came to his death, when his body came in contact with a wire carrying 15,000 volts of electricity.
Cloyes was working for the Edison company.

An inquest over the body will be held in Burbank tomorrow afternoon. Following funeral services here, burial will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Oh, Boys! Big
Circus Coming
To Santa Ana

Word has been received here today that the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey combined circuses will exhibit in Santa Ana about September 16.

The advice add that the big show arrives in California from the northwest, and comes to Santa Ana direct from Los Angeles and Long Beach.

Not less than 100 cars are necessary to transport the 1600 people, 700 horses, the double managerie,
tents, properties and other acces-ories.

Police News

Joe Munoz, 23, Fullerton, was jail last night, where he is being held on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Marius Jensen, Anaheim, Route
1, reported to the sheriff's office
last night that 43 lugs of onions were stolen from his place some time yesterday.

Clyde Flowers, deputy jailer, left here yesterday for San Quentin with W. M. Dyer, convicted in superior court here last week on a fictitious check charge.
Dyer was sentenced to serve from one to 14 years.

Charged with battery after he is alleged to have attacked his wife, Jose Rodriguez was fined $35 in Judge J. F. Talbot's court yesterday afternoon.

Other fines were as follows:
R. O. Harms, St. Helens, Ore.,
speeding, $10; R. L. Roth, Santa Ana, parking overtime, $2; R.
Mills, Santa Ana, speeding, $15;
W. C. Woods, Santa Ana, parking overtime, $2; F. G. Taylor, Santa Ana, allowing motor to run unattended, $3; D. Lares, Santa Ana, failure to observe boulevard stops, $5.

PREPARE FOR RECORD BAND
DANCE CROWD

With reports indicating a record
sale of tickets for the "Save the Band" benefit dance to be given Thursday night in the Rendezvous ballroom, Balboa, arrangements were made today by the committee in charge of the affair to take care of a possible overflow of dancers.

Fred M. Medbery, chairman of the committee, said today that arrangements would be made with the owners of the Pavilion ballroom for the use of its spacious quarters on the evening of the dance, in addition to the Rendezvous.

Artists who have volunteered their services for the entertainment program are Madge Rush, well known dancer; Reginald Taylor, baritone singer, and Billy Dooley,
vaudeville actor and screen artist.

In anticipation of a record crowd
for the event, special arrangements were completed today by the Newport police department to handle motor traffic. In addition to clearing certain streets adjoining the ballroom parking space
will be had in several auto parks, owners of which have donated their use for the benefit of the band fund.

Court Notes

Widow Inherits $107,500
Valued at $107,500, the estate of Spencer C. Ashlin, of Balboa, who was killed in an automobile accident August 13, was left to his widow and sole heir, Helen Ashlin, 33, it was set forth today in her petition to superior court to probate the will. Mrs. Ashlin resides at 312 Buena Vista street, Balboa.

The Balboa residence, valued at $7500, and securities amounting to $100,000 comprise the estate. The probate petition was filed through Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel, of Santa Ana.

Ashlin met death in Live Oak canyon, while driving to Tra-buco canyon, in an automobile. His car went over an embankment, pinning him underneath. His body was not discovered until several hours later.

C. B. Campbell, of Orange, was plaintiff in a superior court action on file today against C. F. Nourse in which Campbell asks judgment on a note for $5000 principal and $1350 interest. Attorney Clyde Bishop represents Campbell.

Asks $3205 Damages
Damages aggregating $3205.05
were claimed today by John Jones,
who filed suit in superior court against John McClure as the result of an automobile collision at San Juan Capistrano, April 15, last.

Jones suffered two broken ribs,
a dislocated shoulder and sundry bruises in the wreck, which also damaged his car and clothing. Attorneys Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, Santa Ana, represent Jones.

HAY FEVER BANISHED IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS

Cleveland Specialist's Prescription Guaranteed to Relieve

Tens of thousands of Hay Fever sufferers have been given instant relief by Dr. Platt's famous Rinex Prescription. Medical science has discovered that this beneficial medicine is not a mere surface irritant, but that it comes from plant poisons absorbed into the blood. This causes a deep-seated poisoning. The Rinex Prescription, taken internally in capsule form, actually reaches this vicious poisoning and neutralizes it. Sneezing usually stops in half an hour. Runny nose, sore itching eyes, headache, fever—all these symptoms disappear. You get complete relief in twenty-four hours or the $1.00 purchase price is refunded by the druggist from whom you buy. Rinex is also guaranteed for Rose Pever, Catarrh, Asthma and Head Cold. You can get it from any good druggist.

CALIFORNIA IS LEADER IN PER CAPITA INCOME

California reported the largest per capita net income of any state in the Union for the calendar year 1923, figures, which became available yesterday, showed.

Rex B. Goodcell, collector of internal revenue, who arrived home yesterday from his annual official visit to Washington, stated that data he had secured from official sources showed that for 1923, the latest figures available, California reported per capita net income of $450.09 as compared with $237.27 for the United States as a whole.

California's per capita income tax was $10.53, compared with $6.34 for the country as a whole. The per cent of population filing returns in California was 13.39, while that of the United States as a whole was 6.94. The average net income per return in California was $3315.70.

"Washington officials recognize California as one of the nation's great bulwarks of financial strength and its steady, consistent expansion through periods of national business depression amazes the average easterner," Collector Goodcell said.

NAVY TO MAKE DRIVE IN S. A. FOR RECRUITS

The Los Angeles navy recruiting station is making a drive for good material for the navy in this section. According to F. A. Luenser, U. S. N., who is in Santa Ana today making arrangements for the recruiting party's stay here, the party will be here September 10, 11, 23 and 24. The council chamber in the city hall has been secured for the recruiters, he said.

According to Luenser, the navy today spells opportunity, in capital letters, for any ambitious young man.

"Any young man enlisting in the navy for four years need not look upon that period of his life as so much out of his best years and expect to emerge a stunted thing, having learned only the one lesson of absolute obedience," said Luenser.

"He may anticipate four years of special training wherein he can learn that which will enable him to be an expert in some useful occupation. If he wishes to remain in the navy, he can look forward to advancement.

"A battleship is perhaps the most perfect laboratory in the world. All of its machinery must be the best of its kind and up-to-date. The instructors are most capable. By using his spare time to improve his knowledge, a sailor can make his years of naval service a valuable life asset. All of this time, he is fed, housed and clothed. He travels all over the world; he learns team play and the knack of getting along with his fellows as he can learn nowhere else. He develops the habits of efficiency and accuracy. And if he does not graduate a much better and more capable man the fault is his own."

Neglect of Duty Charged Against Coolidge Guards

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., Aug. 25.—Charges of neglect of duty have been preferred against two marines, members of President Coolidge's summer White House guard.

Lt. J. E. Wright, inspecting the early morning guard, found one of the marines asleep at his post and the other absent.

The two other marines of the guard and the secret service men, who maintain 24 hour guard over Mr. Coolidge, were on duty, however, and no danger was incurred.

Naval officials would not comment on the episode and declined to make public the names of the two men.

LOS ANGELES the Once Over

ARMY RESERVE OFFICERS TO MEET.—A movement against endangering national defense by curtailing army and navy appropriations, and plans for the annual state convention of the Reserve Officers' Association will be initiated here Friday evening a special dinner of the Los Angeles chapter of the association. The meeting will be held at the Windsor Tea Rooms, 537 West Seventh street, 6:15 o'clock. Maj. Gen. Charles T. Menoher, commanding officer of the ninth corps area; Senator Samuel M. Shortridge and Congressman Walter F. Lineberger have been invited to attend. Speakers will include Dr. George H. Rice of Los Angeles of the Better American Federation, and Maj. Reynold Blythe, staff specialist reserve, recently from Washington, D. C. The state convention of the association will be held at the Hotel Clark here September 12 and 13, with 300 reserve officers in attendance.

CALIFORNIA RESIDENTS HAVE HIGH INCOME RATE.—California reported the largest per capita net income of any state for the calendar year 1923, by official figures which became available yesterday. Collector of internal revenue Goodcell, who returned from his annual conference with Washington officials, stated that data obtained from the Treasury Department showed that for 1923, California reported a per capita net income of $450.09, as compared with $237.27 for the United States as a whole. The per capita income tax in this state was $10.53, as against $6.34 for the nation. The per cent of population filing returns in California was 13.39, while that of the United States as a whole was 6.94. The average net income per return in California was $3315.70. "Washington recognizes California as one of the nation's great bulwarks of financial strength, and the steady, consistent expansion through periods of national business depression is amazing the average Easterner," Collector Goodcell said.

SPIRITUALISTS TO OPEN CONVENTION.—The thirtieth annual convention of the California State Spiritualists' Association will open next Tuesday evening, September 1, in Symphony Hall, 232 South Hill street, and close with an evening meeting on Sunday, September 6. Among those listed as leaders are W. Q. Sayers, W. E. Shelby, Mary C. Vasek, Dr. Adah Patterson, Rev. Joseph Linhart, Rev. Charles A. Wheatley, Rev. Marian Carpenter, Vail, Irene Smith, Judge F. E. Stivers and Dr. B. F. Austin. Election of officers and of delegates to the national convention will be held at the afternoon meeting on Saturday, September 5, with induction of officers at the final meeting on Sunday evening.

POLICE CHIEF FIGHTS UNDERWORLD.—Los Angeles is going to be the most unhealthy place in America for crooks, bank bandits, gunmen and underworld characters, according to Chief of Police R. Lee Heath, who yesterday made public some of the police plans for protecting the citizens from desperadoes. Every policeman has orders to shoot to kill when he encounters holdup men or other armed persons caught in outlawry, said the chief. "We must not let criminals 'dig in' here and we must never let them get settled and organized," he told his division commanders, 18 in number. "We must have machine guns in every division and squads of sharpshooters stationed in accessible parts of the city."

Fights and Fighters

EAST CHICAGO, Ind., Aug. 25.—Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world, won a popular decision here last night over Salto Friedman. Walker piled up an overwhelming point lead in the opening rounds, sending his opponent to the mat for a count of two in the first. Friedman finished strong in the last three rounds but was unable to overcome Walker's lead.

Low Paluso, Salt Lake City lightweight, who made himself very popular on the coast with two draws in his bouts against Frankie Farron and Ace Hudkins, will meet Frankie Lamar, Mexican, at Vernon tonight.

Bud Ridley and Jackie Sherman meet in a re-match six round bout. The two fight a draw last time out at Vernon.

Johnny Trambitas, of a fighting family, meets Dutch Crozier in the feature preliminary.

Fidel La Barba, flyweight champion, after resting for one month will tackle several good bantamweights on the coast. After that he will defend his title against flyweight challengers, and, according to George Blake, his manager, Genaro can have a return bout. However, they will not necessarily fight in New York, as Phil Bernstein, Genaro's manager, recommended.

"I'll admit he underestimated La Barba," said Bernstein. "We would like another chance at the title. I know the fight will draw $100,000 in New York but will fight any place Blake indicates."

Bail Bond Broker Gets Out of Jail

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Pete McDonough, former bail bond broker and political power, was paroled yesterday from the Alameda county jail, where he was serving 18 months for violation of the federal prohibition law.

Notice of approval of the parole was received from Attorney General Sargent after McDonough's good behavior, if he were released, had been sponsored by Thomas E. Shumate, police commissioner and wealthy owner of a chain of drug stores here.

McDonough started serving sentence Dec. 22, 1924, after he and his nephew, Harry Rice, were found guilty of selling liquor. Rice was given a year in jail, and both paid heavy fines.

PRINCIPAL IN MAIL ROBBERY RESIGNS BAR

John U. Hemmi, former Anaheim attorney, who recently completed a jail sentence for complicity in the $25,000 Anaheim mail robbery of two years ago, has resigned from the state bar in the face of disbarment proceedings, it was learned today.

Hemmi had been ordered to appear before Justice Conrey, in the district court of appeals, yesterday, to show cause why he should not be disbarred because of his felony conviction. He failed to appear and his resignation was filed.

Charles L. Nichols, special prosecutor of the Los Angeles Bar association, filed the application for disbarment of Hemmi. Nichols also sought suspension of another attorney, Guy Rockwell, of Los Angeles, which was granted. Rockwell had been convicted of conspiracy to violate the Harrison narcotic act, and was granted a stay of execution of sentence, pending an appeal.

Eight attorneys were admitted to the bar yesterday, all but one being new arrivals from other states, who were admitted "on motion." One, John Holler, Los Angeles, recently had passed bar examinations in this state.

In HOLLYWOOD

By RUSSELL J. BIRDWELL.

Fannie Hurst, authoress, paid her first visit to a film factory yesterday. Paramount gave her $50,000 for writing a scenario.

"We want you to meet some of our people," one of the movie officials suggested. "How would you like to meet Pola Negri?"

"Pola Negri? Oh, is she one of your writers?"

"No, she's the world's greatest movie actress."

Yes-men led Fannie to Pola's bungalow. Before the introduction, however, a press agent "tipped" the Polish actress she was to meet Fannie Hurst.

"Fannie Hurst," mused Pola. "Let's see—she's the greatest?"

"No, she's the world's greatest writer," said the publicist.

As the two "world's greatest" women were presented, Miss Hurst curtsied and said:

"What a pleasure to meet the world's greatest actress."

Like a trained seal, Pola answered:

"And I am so delighted to meet the world's greatest writer."

So close to the star's house, Miss Hurst turned to her escort, smilingly:

"Weren't we magnificent, though?"

As evidence of authenticity at any price is the fillings, Greta Nissen from Norway, who talks with a nasal accent, will play the leading role of the American girl in the Zeigfeld picture, "Glorifying the American Girl" for the Paramount company.

The foreigner is being used, it is explained, because no native girl could be found to typify the American part of script.

John Stahl, veteran director, was passing Josef Von Sternberg, director-poser, on the studio lot.

"What stage are you working on?" asked Stahl in a friendly manner.

"All the world is my stage," Sternberg replied lifting his way far toward the heavens.

P. S. It is more than true now that the world is Sternberg's stage, as he has been "let out" by Metro-Goldwyn Mayer officials.

"This guy Shakespeare should quit stealing Sternberg's stuff," mused a Boulevardier.

Hope Loring and Louis Litton, married scenarists, were telling Rockcliffe Fellows, the actor, about the renovation of their home.

"All one side of the house is town off," said Hope. "If you would like to see a couple of scenario writers asleep some night all you would have to do would be to walk by the house and peer in."

Fellows smiled.

"It would be no novelty to see a scenario writer asleep; the marvelous phenomena would be finding one awake."

Jack Drew, promoter of Dallas, Texas, has come here to contribute his share of energy and ingenuity to the development of industrial enterprises. He plans to establish a factory in the heart of the movie mecca for the manufacture of padded cells on wheels.

"I believe my product will be a boon to motion picture expediency," Drew says. "Just think; a director, instead of having to call a casting officer for Miss Joosie Elotsum, will merely have to ring up and say send No. 606912 down in the rubber cell."

"She will then come wheeling through the studio gates and the fans from Keokuk may gaze upon her through the bars without endangering their lives."

Why Editors Go Crazy. "Rudolph Valentino cried real tears the other day while enacting a scene showing the death of his father. The parent lay on a rude cot, Valentino, garbed as a Cossack officer, reared up just before the old man's life flickered out. An expression of unutterable sorrow came over his face as he knelt at the bedside. Then the tears came rolling down his cheeks. The feeling was so real that the extras also wept."

To Hold Inquest For Crash Victim

Inquest into the death of Narciso Medrano, 28, 1451 Fifty-Fourth st., Los Angeles, who was instantly killed on Newport boulevard yesterday morning, will be held in the Winbigger Mission Funeral home this afternoon, Coroner Charles D. Brown announced today.

Medrano drove his machine over the bridge at the intersection of the Newport boulevard and the Paulinho road, the car plunging 20 feet to the bottom. Death was instantaneous.

Coroner Brown said today "that he had no additional information regarding the accident victim, and that there were no eye witnesses to the crash."

Funeral services will be held in Los Angeles tomorrow, it was said, with burial in that city.

Italian Navy In Annual Maneuver

NAPLES, Aug. 25.—One hundred and six ships of the line, 60 aircraft and three giant dirigibles, representing the greatest Italian naval armada ever assembled, began annual maneuvers here yesterday.

ENTER BRIDGE DISTRICT
CRESCENT CITY, Calif., Aug. 25.—By a vote of 3 to 2 here today, the supervisors of Del Norte county approved entry of the county into the Golden Gate bridge district, provided by the Combs bill.

The vain fight to "come back" ... insisted her plastic nose has marred what beauty the passing years left her... Volia Vale, who started life as Volia Smith, coming out of Paulais... she's divorcing Al Russell, director-husband, who hasn't directed in three years... "We just weren't getting anywhere together... I'm going to try and get there alone," she says.

"What do you mean by cutting the button?" shouted Traffic Officer Dewey Sund at Miss Mary Andrews, in Hollywood.

"I'm a dress-maker and cutting is my specialty," she retorted.

A week later they were married.

Laughs from my Hollywood diary: Lunch with Gladys Brookwell, a has-been who is coming back nobly. Sipping fluid which would make a great filler for fountain pens, we discuss what the movies need. "No you're wrong," she says to me. "Movies are not suffering from lack of original ideas. Stale ideas are what make successful pictures. The public demands sentimental slush which can be easily understood. I doubt if artistry will ever be injected into motion pictures. It would doom them. Arsenic—not artistry—is what the movies need."

Now that the war theme is being used in a dozen novels and on an equal number of stages and screen, Jesse L. Laskey, picture producer, rises to prophesy that: "I look to see an impressive array of screen and stage plays based on the World War before many months."

Lessons in Movie Modesty. Francis X. Bushman declares he has a unique claim to fame. He says his picture is in every large courthouse in America.

P. S. I don't know whether he means the rogue's gallery or not.

Ed Horkelmer used to be one of the biggest producers in the picture world. Today he sells real estate to the star he bossed 10 years ago. "Tis said that Ed is making more money in his realty profession than he ever did in the movies."

Some invisible fascination forever holds movie moths in the throes of the film fires. Seldom do they ever desert and enter other fields for a livelihood.

K. O. Rahm, leading man for Alice Calhoun, years ago, is now a photographer for Mary Pickford. Val Paul was once leading man for Priscilla Dean. He lost his looks or following, or both, and now he acts as her producing manager. Margarita Fischer was a star 10 years ago. Now she is flinging in the scenario realm.

THE SECRET OF THOSE WONDERFUL ENGLISH COMPLEXIONS

Grandmother's Recipe—Kept Her Youthful Looks and Clear Creamy Complexion with Common Everyday Buttermilk and Cream.

Every woman reader of this paper who prizes a clear creamy white complexion and snow-white hands and arms will be glad to know that while preparing this old-time recipe at home was always messy and troublesome they can now obtain at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation called "Howard's" Buttermilk Cream.

The directions are simple and the woman who has hitherto refused to indulge in such so-called "vanities" might well be excused for using Buttermilk Cream since beauty simply thrives on buttermilk. No pimples or blemishes, no wrinkles or lines around the eyes and mouth, but just that creamy delicious color that makes even a good-looking woman still more beautiful.

You can get it at any pharmacy or department store simply asking for "Howard's" Buttermilk Cream and remember it's only sold on a positive guarantee of satisfaction or money back. Druggists can hardly keep it in stock there's such a demand.—Adv.

Tennis Star Ill With Appendicitis

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 25.—Ray Casey, San Francisco tennis star, who paired with Nat W. Niles of Boston won a first round match in the national doubles championship yesterday, was taken suddenly ill with acute appendicitis and operated on at Phillips House, Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston.

His condition was reported satisfactory at the hospital today.

"It is most unfortunate, but the rules of the championship call for a default in emergencies of this kind," Richard Bishop, referee of the tournament, told the United Press.

Casey and Niles were to have met Lucien Williams and George E. Lott Jr., of Chicago, in the second round today. They defeated E. R. Summer and E. M. Jonkass, England, in the opening round 7-5, 6-4, 6-1.

Wonders and Mysteries Of Old World Revealed In Talk to Club

Some of the wonders and mysteries of the old world were revealed yesterday noon, when Theo Winbiger, who recently returned from a tour around the world, spoke to the members of the Business and Professional Women's club at St. Ann's Inn.

In the short time allotted to Mr. Winbiger, he could not go into detail in telling of his experiences and adventures abroad, but in an interesting, informal manner he told of some of the cities and countries he visited.

He spoke of Egypt, the land where ruins tell the story of a former civilization. Mr. Winbiger was very much impressed with the massive temples and had the opportunity of watching a crew unearth mummies and treasures of ancient times. Although visitors are not allowed in King Tut's tomb, he declared that other tombs were nearly as interesting. Pictures were shown those present of various places of interest in Egypt, including the well-guarded King Tut's tomb.

"One of the most cosmopolitan cities in the world is Cairo," said Mr. Winbiger. "In just a few blocks, one can meet nearly all the races of the world. There are the black, the white, the red and brown races, and, naturally, hundreds of languages are spoken. If one can speak English, it is not a difficult matter to find one's way about."

"I spent nearly two days in just going through St. Peter's, in Rome. This church, which I believe is considered the largest and most beautiful church in the world, is a marvelous creation in architecture and design."

"It is so massive that a congregation of 1000 worshippers in the church, while another congregation of the same size may worship in another section without hearing each other."

Mr. Winbiger spoke of the volcanic soil in Pompeii, declaring that, when he picked up a handful, it was so hot he could hardly hold it. The speaker spent some time in Paris, that city being his headquarters. He enjoyed an airplane trip from Paris to London.

Speaking of the Parisian stores, he said that it was not true that prices were exorbitant, as Americans believe, but that the prices both for living and for wearing apparel were very much cheaper than in America. He said that this was because labor was so cheap and that the materials were made in France.

Mrs. Winbiger, who was unable to accompany her husband on his tour, but who met him in New York City and returned to California with him by way of Panama, also was present at the luncheon yesterday.

W. I. Stewart gave a short talk, appealing to the organization to cooperate with the other service clubs in an endeavor to save the band.

Nearly 30 members were present yesterday. Cards were read from the Misses Lulu and Gale Finley and Grace Lashby, who are now touring Southern Italy.

SPORT DRESS IS INVENTED AND WORN BY AMERICANS

skirts, loosely fitted blouses, and well-fitting shoes.

You may think these clothes are easy to wear, but they are not. They require the straight lines, slender ankles, well-shaped feet and the easy, graceful walk that is particularly American. So long as the Frenchwoman insists on wearing extremely short-skirted, high-heeled shoes she can never wear American sport clothes if she wants to.

For the sport skirt must be short, at least it must clear the ankle by a few inches and it may have none of the irregular points or trick devices by which the thick ankle may be flattered. The wearer must be slim enough so she does not look "boxy" or square, and must be straight and curvaceous enough to suggest Diana whether she is actually athletic or not.

To wear these severe costumes and look smart requires perfect grooming, excellent materials, and American assurance.

I have come to the conclusion that the French women achieve their individuality through their clothes and the American women through themselves, for though they are dressed as much alike as peas in a pod, they all have a distinct personality that must come from the inside since it does not come from the outside.

Santa Ana Couple Married Quietly In Riverside

At a quiet wedding last Wednesday in Riverside, Miss Della Marie Phillips, daughter of Mrs. Zinnie Phillips Santa Ana, became the bride of James R. Hendrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Hendrie, of this city.

The marriage service was read by the Rev. Mr. Barnett, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian church, Riverside.

Attending the couple were the bridegroom's two sisters, Mrs. Donald Gerome and Mrs. Lester Tubbs. The bride wore a delectable blue silk dress and large picture hat, while her corsage bouquet consisted of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Following a short honeymoon, the young couple returned to Santa Ana. They are residing in Broadway apartments. The bride is a graduate of Santa Ana high school while the bridegroom is part owned of the Gerome and Hendrie service station in Santa Ana.

Young People of Christian Church Attend Conference

A delegation of Santa Ana young folk will attend the fifth annual Young People's Summer conference of the Christian church, which is being held this week in Los Angeles. The trip is made possible through the cooperation of Mrs. B. T. Harris and the ladies' aid society of the local Christian church.

The Santa Ana group will attend the Pilgrim pageant at Hollywood and will be instructed in missionary and Endeavor work.

The delegation will comprise Helen Glancey, Maxine Lotta, Mildred Stump, Nada Smith, Vera Smith, Virginia Lowell, Miriam Adamson, Veda Mitchell, Iola Baer, Lorene Porter and Louis Napier.

Face of Mountain Is Blasted Away

TEHACHA, Calif., Aug. 25.—With hundreds of spectators at nearby hillside and with motion picture cameras clicking, what is declared to be the largest charge of dynamite ever exploded in this state razed the face of Bear mountain. It was estimated that 250,000 tons of rock were torn down by the 30 tons of dynamite.

Couple Surprise Santa Ana Parents

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Spencer, of 312 Cypress street, were very pleasantly surprised last Friday night by a visit from their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Hoffman, of Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman have been on an extensive motor tour, including Yellowstone park, the Pacific northwest and California.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman are impressed with Santa Ana and vicinity and are thinking of locating here.

Freezing temperature of salt water is four degrees lower than that of fresh water.

Miss Heil Becomes Bride of Harold Kyle At Home Wedding

Because of their popularity in Santa Ana, the wedding of Miss Alice Heil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Heil, Orange, and Harold Kyle, which took place Sunday in Orange, is of interest in society circles here.

The ceremony took place in the bride's home. After the guests had assembled Miss Mildred Wickersheim, a cousin of the bride, sang "At Dawning," by Cadman. The bride couple then descended the stairs to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played on the piano by Miss Lela Heil, the bride's sister, and took their places beneath an arch of fern and pink amaryllis, where the Rev. C. B. Dalton, pastor of the Methodist church, Orange, read the service.

The bride chose as her wedding gown a beautiful creation of white georgette and lace over satin, and a filmy veil, arranged in coronet fashion on her head, with orange blossoms, completed the costume.

Pink and white asters arranged attractively with ferns were the home decorations and this color combination also was carried out in other appointments.

The bride was graduated from the Santa Ana high school and then secured a degree from the U. S. C. Southern Branch. For the last three years, she has taught in the Orange city schools.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. William Passer of Orange. He also is a graduate of Santa Ana high school, attended U.S.C., and is now located at Center Valley, San Diego county, where he is developing his ranch.

Future Bride Is Surprised With Shower-Party

Miss Florence Cochems, who will become the bride of Merrill Hare, of Orange, Sunday, August 30, was the incentive for an attractive miscellaneous shower Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Cochems.

The shower came as a distinct surprise to the future bride, who believed the affair to be a surprise on her mother, whose birthday anniversary was celebrated the previous day.

Many beautiful gifts were received by the honored guest. Those attending were Mesdames P. S. McCallain, Will Roblins, Everett Egglon, Donald McKinley, Walter McKean, Will Fairchild, Carol Taylor, Santa Ana; Mesdames Hare and Prince, Orange; Miss Julia Lusardi, Escondido; Miss Mabel Deane, Racine, Wisconsin; Miss Vivian Fairchild, Miss Van Cochems, Mrs. Daisy Stedman and honored guest and mother.

Franzen Home Scene Of Dinner Party

A family dinner party was given last evening by Mrs. Edward Franzen, Tustin avenue, in compliment to Miss Della Franzen, who returned recently from Honolulu, and Miss Mabel Franzen, who will leave shortly for Pomona, college, where she will enter her junior year.

The guest list included relatives of the Franzens and the dinner proved a jolly get-together.

Pretty Japanese Party Given for Mrs. Helen Stedman

Japanese lanterns, fans and kimonos were very much in evidence recently, when the Business and Professional Women's club entertained at a Japanese farewell party, in honor of Mrs. Helen Stedman, who sailed Monday from San Pedro for New York city, where she will enroll in a six week's course in pipe organ at Columbia university.

The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Edna Timm, 1315 Orange avenue. The home was prettily decorated with potted plants, flowers and foliage given for the occasion from the beautiful gardens of Dr. W. C. Mayes.

An especially exquisite bouquet of ferns and asters was arranged on the living-room table and was greatly admired.

All the guests came in brightly colored Japanese kimonos and slippers and the evening was delightfully passed in playing Japanese games, the most popular one being "Hearts." At little individual tables, tea and rice cakes were served at a late hour. Just before the guests departed for their homes, they presented the honored guest, Mrs. Stedman, with a beautiful silk umbrella.

Those attending were Helen Kubity, Nancy Marshall, Ethel Coffman, Elizabeth Perkins, Mayme Brightwell, Helen N. Gallagher, Marie A. Fowler, Harriet Whidden, Lorraine French, Virginia Craig, Martha Whitson, Louise Kasler, Helen Stedman, Bess Mathis and Alice Cole.

Walters Gardens Scene of Another Pretty Gathering

The beautiful garden of Mrs. Ada C. Walters was the scene again of another party, when she entertained the Eastern Star ladies last evening, following the regular meeting of the order. Mrs. Walters, who is worthy matron for the Santa Ana chapter, proved herself a charming hostess to nearly 100 guests.

Games and fortune-telling furnished some of the entertainment for the affair, while later in the evening Mrs. Walters served iced watermelon, coffee and wafers.

At the recent luncheon given by Mrs. Walters, the names of Mrs. Sam Jernigan, associate matron of the local chapter, Mrs. Mary Martin, Santa Ana, and Mrs. Doris Dyckman, Yorba Linda, were omitted from the guest list.

Legal Notice

NOTICE OF PUBLIC WORK

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Trustees of the City of Santa Ana, California, will receive bids up to the hour of five o'clock
p. m., September 2nd, 1925, for the drilling of one water well, in accordance with specifications now on file
in the office of the Water Superintendent of the City of Santa Ana, California. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check, 10% of the amount bid, to guarantee that the successful bidder will enter into the contract with the said City for the drilling of said water well.
All bids to be filed in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Santa Ana, California.
The Board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any and all bids.
Dated this 20th day of August, 1925.
E. L. VEGELY, City Clerk.Theory followed up on information obtained by D. Dan Adams, Ora Moncrief, Pat Hurd and Joe Irvine, Orange county deputies, at Oceanside, that they met a man there who gave him name
as Don Reese, who told them that 10 minutes before the train pulled into Oceanside, two men who he recognized as the same men who had held him up a year ago, and whom he identified as "Blacky" and "Dago," were seen loitering around the Oceanside station.Reese stated that he had not seen the men since he was waylaid by them, but that he instantaneously recognized them and that they recognized him. He believes one of the other may have been the bandit who shot Campbell.Both men, he said, lived somewhere in the Imperial valley.
At the same time, a Los Angeles detective stated that certain government checks and drafts, stolen in a train robbery several months ago, were reported as being cashed in the Imperial valley several weeks ago.A report from San Onofre, at 10:30 last night, was to the effect that a big automobile passed through there going south. Three men were in the machine and seemed to be changing clothes.Mystery Car at Elsinore
At midnight, a report from
the Riverside police said that
three men in a big car, which fitted the description of the other
machine, passed through Elsinore,
going at a high rate of speed.Although thousands of dollars
may have been stolen from the
coach, this is most unlikely, according to R. S. Hocking, Los Angeles, route agent for the American Express company, who,
with W. V. Doyle, Los Angeles,
traveling auditor for the Santa Fe railroad, happened to be in Santa Ana last night on an inspection tour.He said that any big shipment
from San Diego to Los Angeles
banks or jewelers would have
been placed in the large safe and only sums of money and valuable
packages that were picked up en
route would have been in the smaller safe. As the train makes very few stops, they said it was unlikely that any large sum was taken.A Los Angeles detective for
the express company stated that he did not believe the loss would
have run over $400 to the express
company, giving the same reasons
as did Hocking.The train was held here from 8:42 p. m. until 9:40. It was due in Los Angeles at 9:50 p. m.Carter Takes Up Work James Carter, local baggage master, took charge of the coach and delivered it to Los Angeles,
without allowing other officers
here to enter it. Finger-print ex-100 OFFICERS
IN HUNT FOR MAIL ROBBER

tatives, there were no mail bags missing from the coach, and the bandit escaped with packages hurriedly grabbed before making his escape. Money contained in the messenger's strong box was also taken, but no check has been made,
and it is not known how much was stolen.Post Office Inspector F. E. Jarvis, of San Diego, was in Santa Ana today in connection with the case and issued a statement declaring there was no registered mail in the car. He further said no mail of any value was taken by the bandit.All Well at Oceanside
The shooting and robbery occurred somewhere between Oceanside
and Santa Ana. This is known
because Campbell was seen on duty
at Oceanside, where the train
made its last stop before pulling
into the Santa Ana station.One theory is that the bandit
boarded the train at Oceanside, set
his trap, and when the train
came down the long stretch between Oceanside and Santa Ana,
carried out his work and escaped
as the train slowed down in the Santa Fe yards, just south of Santa
Ana.Another theory is that the man
escaped after reaching Santa Ana,
where he met confederates and was
spirited away in an automobile.That the "job" was done by an
amateur, is the contention of Ed
McClellan, chief criminal deputy,
who is in charge of the investigation in this county, in the absence
of Sheriff Sam Jernigan. McClellan
backs up his statement by the
fact that professional train robbers
as a rule know what is in the
coach before they rob it, and by the fact that several kinds of mail
bags were opened, he claiming
that professional robbers would
know which sacks contained the
valuables, and therefore not touch
the common sacks. He also points
out the fact that the man was not equipped to open the big safe in
the car, which showed no sign of
having been tampered with.Man Be Ex-Rail Man
Another theory is that the man
who committed the crime was
formerly a railroad employee or a former express trainman, in that
he knew how to enter the door
from the top of the coach, even though the door was locked.Although the condition of Campbell when he was lifted
from the baggage coach here did
not indicate how much time had
elapsed since he was wounded,
carriers could not have been
shot longer than an hour, officers said. The train left Oceanside
at 7:40 p. m., and arrived
here at 8:42. The distance is 51 miles, showing that the train
made good speed between the
two places.A theory that the bandit may
have escaped at San Juan Capis-
trano was not substantiated, according to officers who learned that
the train was making unusually fast speed when it passed
through this town. The theory was that the man jumped off
there, and caught passenger train
No. 76, southbound, which passed

At midnight, a report from
the Riverside police said that
three men in a big car, which fit-
ted the description of the other
machine, passed through Elsinore,
going at a high rate of speed.Although thousands of dollars
may have been stolen from the
cording to R. S. Hocking, Los Angeles, route agent for the American Express company, who,
with W. V. Doyle, Los Angeles,
traveling auditor for the Santa Fe railroad, happened to be in Santa Ana last night on an inspection tour.He said that any big shipment
from San Diego to Los Angeles
banks or jewelers would have
only sums of money and valuable
packages that were picked up en
route would have been in the
smaller safe. As the train makes
very few stops, they said it was
unlikely that any large sum was
taken.A Los Angeles detective for
the express company stated that
he did not believe the loss would
have run over $400 to the express
company, giving the same reasons

Theft of PianoSAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—
Don Alvin, 23, had a chance to go on the stage if he could find a piano to practice some songs.A. G. Kennedy was sympathetic and gave Alvin the key to his bachelor apartments, containing a piano.Returning home later, Kennedy found his piano gone and a $20
bill. On the chair was the music
Alvin had been practicing. "Oh How I Miss You Tonight," was the title.The shooting and robbery occurred somewhere between Oceanside
and Santa Ana. This is known
because Campbell was seen on duty
at Oceanside, where the train
made its last stop before pulling
into the Santa Ana station.One theory is that the bandit
boarded the train at Oceanside, set
his trap, and when the train
tween Oceanside and Santa Ana,
carried out his work and escaped
as the train slowed down in the Santa Fe yards, just south of Santa
Ana.Another theory is that the man
escaped after reaching Santa Ana,
where he met confederates and was
spirited away in an automobile.That the "job" was done by an
amateur, is the contention of Ed
McClellan, chief criminal deputy,
who is in charge of the investiga-
of Sheriff Sam Jernigan. McClellan
backs up his statement by the
fact that professional train robbers
as a rule know what is in the
coach before they rob it, and by the
fact that several kinds of mail
bags were opened, he claiming
that professional robbers would
know which sacks contained the
valuables, and therefore not touch
the common sacks. He also points
equipped to open the big safe in
the car, which showed no sign of
having been tampered with.Man Be Ex-Rail Man
Another theory is that the man
formerly a railroad employee or a
former express trainman, in that
he knew how to enter the door
from the top of the coach, even though the door was locked.Although the condition of Campbell when he was lifted
from the baggage coach here did
not indicate how much time had
elapsed since he was wounded,
carriers could not have been
shot longer than an hour, officers said. The train left Oceanside
at 7:40 p. m., and arrived
here at 8:42. The distance is 51 miles, showing that the train
made good speed between the
two places.A theory that the bandit may
have escaped at San Juan Capis-
trano was not substantiated, according to officers who learned that
the train was making un-
usually fast speed when it passed
through this town. The theory was that the man jumped off
there, and caught passenger train

NEWS from ORANGE COUNTY

ANNEXATION OF TERRITORY TO CITY DISCUSSED

FULLERTON, Aug. 25.—Meeting for discussion of the proposed annexation of Lansdowne and other property to the west of Fullerton, a large number of landowners gathered at the city council rooms last night with the city trustees, and although no definite action was taken, several points were made clear to the council and the owners which were in doubt before the meeting.

R. L. Chambers, chairman of the grammar school board of the city, appeared before the meeting, and explained several matters regarding the action which excluded children from Lansdowne from the Fullerton grammar schools. He quoted figures, showing expenses of teaching each pupil, and declared that added expense and crowded conditions on school buses was the cause of the school board's move recently.

Taxpayers within the grammar school district had complained, Chambers declared, because of crowded conditions on the buses, making the move necessary. He asserted that the school board had no feeling whatever in the matter of annexation, and stood absolutely neutral.

Hugh Miller, subdivider, and owner of a portion of the proposed annexation district, appealed to the trustees for school facilities for the children, and assured the trustees that the only motive of the owners was to provide proper schooling for their little ones.

Whatever improvements needed in the district, Miller declared, would be paid for by the residents. This fact was agreed upon by a majority of the residents at a recent mass meeting, he informed the councilmen.

City Attorney F. H. Lyon suggested that steps be taken with County Superintendent of Schools R. P. Mitchell and the board of supervisors to have the school boundaries changed, and thus do away with annexation. Miller opposed the suggestion, saying that such a course would occupy too much time.

A landowner spoke before the councilmen, telling them that, in a recent talk with Superintendent Mitchell, he had been informed the territory in discussion is not in any school district whatever. He told how the only aim of the residents is to offer better education for their children, and that they stood ready to furnish money, at a proper time, for any improvements.

No definite action was taken, although it is thought a settlement of the matter will be reached to night at the regular meeting of the city council.

LOW MARK IS SET IN PAVEMENT BIDS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—Close bidding on a paving contract for Olive avenue from First street to Twenty-third street, set a new low mark for paving construction here last night. George M. Souter, local contractor, was awarded the contract at a bid of $53,065.65. Souter was closely pressed by the Griffith company of Los Angeles who bid $56,071.84.

Souter's bid was for 17-12 cents per square foot for paving. The Griffith company bid 16-8-10 cents per square foot for paving but lost the contract to Souter because he bid higher on several other items.

Three other bids were submitted on the street paving. The Hall Johnson company bid $68,347.20; the Southwest Paving company, $67,511.20, and the Los Angeles Paving company, $69,311.62.

A resolution providing for the issuance of bonds for Seventh street paving was adopted by the trustees at their regular meeting last night.

FINE MEXICAN FOR CARRYING WEAPONS

FULLERTON, Aug. 25.—Jim Ruiz, Bellflower Mexican, was fined $50, and given a 50-day jail sentence yesterday by Justice of the Peace William French, after pleading guilty to a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Ruiz is alleged to have attempted to shoot Officer O. M. Sasseen, of Brea, while the policeman was attempting to place him under arrest. Sasseen stated that the Mexican's gun caught in the holster, and prevented the shooting.

Permission To Close Streets At Beach Sought

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—High school trustees will be asked to send a representative from their body to the next meeting of the city board of trustees, before the trustees will take action on closing streets running through grounds recently purchased by the high school board.

The school board last night petitioned the city trustees to close Union avenue, a blind street one block long, which runs along the south side of the present school grounds. They also asked that an alley through new property purchased be closed. The alley connects Union avenue and Utica street.

City trustees delayed action on the matter until a representative of the high school board could appear before them to explain just what the school board wishes to do about the streets. The city trustees desire a better understanding in the matter of what streets the school boards wish closed and what streets they want open around the school. The school board did not signify if they desired the opening of Utica street, a blind street extending one-half block along the newly purchased school grounds. The city trustees want to open the street across the entire width of the high school grounds.

COUNTY MEN TO MAKE SPEECHES AT BEACH CITY

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 25.—Speeches will be given by Harry Welch of Newport Beach and George Raymer of Fullerton before the Southern California Association of Commercial Secretaries Saturday at Redondo Beach.

The Orange county men are to talk on "The City's Financial Responsibility to the Chamber of Commerce."

Secretaries of commercial organizations over the Southland will attend the meeting. Orange county will send a number of representatives, it is indicated.

Besides holding a business session to discuss matters of importance for commercial work, the secretaries will be entertained through special arrangements.

The last monthly meeting of the association was held at Newport Beach. At that time it was voted to meet this month at Redondo. The session will open at 11 o'clock in the Elks' home, according to advance notices.

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Washington has now probably the most complicated traffic code in the country.

The original idea was to make the capital America's model in the handling of automobiles—a nice place for drivers and a paradise for those who walk.

Unfortunately the code's compilers put too much into it, in an effort to make it cover everything. They also followed the congressional method, in including numerous regulations which either mean nothing at all or else mean two or three different and conflicting things, until they're "interpreted."

The trouble is, the "interpretations" differ and conflict, too.

An autoist, "interpreting" a rule one way, is pinched by a copper who "interprets" it otherwise. The judge, with an "interpretation" all his own, simultaneously bawls out the cop, for the latter's "interpretation," and soaks the prisoner for his.

Taking his lesson to heart, the autoist starts out next morning, full in the faith that he knows what's what, only to be run in presently for doing exactly what he was fined for not doing the day before, the tricky regulation having been "re-interpreted" by some still higher authority overnight and now implying something that neither the autoist, the cop nor the traffic judge had thought of before.

If anybody imagines this doesn't cause confusion, let him visit Washington and see.

Just to illustrate—Traffic Director Eldridge was caught breaking one of his own traffic regulations, which was "interpreted" by somebody else as meaning what Eldridge didn't intend it to mean, and had to pay a fine.

Eldridge was called to be run in by his own brother's driver's license, and might have had to do it, but it turned out to be a Maryland license, so he hadn't the necessary jurisdiction.

At the present rate, one out of every four Washington autoists will have been arrested by the end of the year, and the rate's increasing fast. The regulators are going after the pedestrians next, and if they do to them what they've done to the autoists, the only way of getting around Washington will be by plane.

Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota, the lone Farmer-Labor member of the upper house of congress, is one of the few personally very interesting men

TEN MORE DELEGATES NEEDED TO COMPLETE COUNTY QUOTA FOR TOUR TO CANADA CITIES

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 25.—Collapse of the plans for the proposed Canadian tour next month was seen probable today unless Orange county communities come forward with their quota of delegates. Ten more men are needed to complete the party, according to Harry Welch of the South Coast association, who is arranging the trip.

A decision is expected to be made whether to continue with the plans, at a called meeting of the advertising committee of the South Coast association Friday noon in the Newport Harbor yacht club.

Though 15 delegates already have been suggested for the party, it was declared necessary that the full number be secured before the tour would be advisable. Special concessions are available for the full delegation.

Immediate action is demanded if the party is to leave by September 11. Inland sections are lagging just in the report. The only communities that have definitely named representatives are Newport Beach, Balboa, Huntington Beach, Seal

Beach and San Juan Capistrano.

"No advertising of Orange county could reach any better people or section than is included in the Canadian tour," Welch said today.

"All who have considered the program believe the results will be well worth while."

"The Canadian tour has been endorsed by all the commercial bodies in Orange county," he continued. "It is one of the most meritorious proposals that has ever been advanced for Orange county."

Fourteen places in Canada are to be visited. It is expected that the return will be made in 22 days. All the most important cities in Western Canada are on the itinerary.

DANGERS FROM FIRE AT BEACH TOLD BY CHIEF

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 25.—Fire hazards, due to, insufficient water pressure, daily threaten property here, according to A. W. Jackson, fire chief.

In an interview today, he said that the approval of the $350,000 water bond issue was demanded by the fire risks in the harbor section.

"Under present conditions, our efficiency in fire fighting is seriously hindered by the inadequate water pressure," Jackson said. "We can control an outbreak by emergency measures but the city is in constant danger."

An open meeting of the Newport Beach chamber of commerce has been called for tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the city hall for the purpose of discussing the proposed water bond election.

The fire hazards will be brought up as an argument in support of the issue, it is thought probable. According to city officials the insurance rate for beach property is higher than in other sections because of the fire risk.

Jackson said that the harbor district was fortunate to have had no fire. He said that the lower end of the peninsula was particularly endangered because of the lack of water pressure.

"When a fire breaks out, the only means we have of putting the flames under control is by tapping the chief water mains to gain pressure," Jackson continued.

So far this year, no serious conflagrations have broken out, the fire chief declared. He indicated that his entire crew of 14 men are constantly on the lookout to prevent fires.

Cross Sahara In French Motor Car

JOHANNESBURG, Aug. 25.—Captain Delingette, with a party which includes his wife, who left Colomb Bechar, Morocco, in a French motor car seven months ago, has crossed the Sahara and reached here after many adventures.

The car's headlights inspired some of the forest natives with the belief that the moon had fallen. Descending steep mountains a rope was attached to the car, and in one case as many as eighty natives held the rope, thus acting as a brake.

From Nairobi it was necessary to build or repair 130 bridges in 700 miles; eleven broke, and the car was immersed in water, but no material damage was done.

Lake County Will Rule Dance Halls

LAKEPORT, Calif., Aug. 25.—The Lake county supervisors have passed an ordinance regulating public dances within the county. An annual license of $25 will be required from dance halls which are kept open continuously.

No person under 18 years of age will be permitted to enter a public dance hall unless accompanied by parents or legal guardian. Dance halls must close and remain closed between the hours of 12:30 p. m. and 6 a. m. No public dancing will be permitted on Sunday.

French Leader Is American Citizen

PARIS, Aug. 25.—It is not generally known that Gen. Pinetou de Chambrun, French commander under General Lyatze and immediately in charge of the Moroccan campaign, is an American citizen.

He was born in Washington, D. C., in 1872, and is a direct descendant of Lafayette.

His American civic rights are of a moral rather than a political nature, accruing from the honor conferred upon all descendants of Lafayette at the close of the Revolution, but his birth in Washington emphasizes the claim.

W. R. C. Worker at Orange Is Bride of G. A. R. Member

ORANGE, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Mary Morey of North Pine street, who has always been such a faithful worker in the many lines of work carried on by the G. A. R. and its auxiliary, the W. R. C., and the American Legion and the Legion auxiliary, was married Saturday morning to Henry Dakin of Riverside, a member of the Riverside G. A. R. post.

The wedding occurred in Huntington Park, Rev. S. S. Sampson a former pastor here, performing the ceremony. W. O. Hart of Orange, a son of the bride, acted as best man, and Mrs. Hart acted as matron of honor. Mrs. Dakin is past president of the Relief corps.

Mr. Dakin has resided in Riverside for 27 years and been actively connected with the G. A. R. He will leave with his bride on Thursday to spend their honeymoon in the east and while there he will attend the National Grand Army Encampment at Grand Rapids, Mich. He was born in that state and with his bride will spend some time visiting places and friends of his childhood days.

Following their return they will make their home at 1151 Mulberry street, Riverside.

Street Cleaner Bought By City Board at Beach

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—City streets will be kept cleaner in the future. The city last night became the owner of its first engine-driven street cleaning machine, when the board of trustees purchased a large engine at a cost of $7200.

City streets here have not been cleaned regularly, it was revealed by City Engineer E. M. Billings. Because of the large number of paved streets now in the city it was deemed best that the city purchase the street sweeper.

The main streets will be swept daily and other streets will receive attention more often than before.

GERMANS NEED QUICK ACTION ON SECURITY

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—Unless speedy action is taken on the security pact and the connected question of Germany's entrance into the League of Nations, most of the expected effect in bettering international conditions, at least in Germany, will be lost.

The German cabinet and people are tired of waiting. The German ministers, armed for the negotiations and with suitcases packed for the conference, are waiting, but as the days pass and bring nothing but postponements, their belief in the efficiency of the negotiations diminishes.

The effect on the people is even worse. A really bad economic situation, with a money shortage and rising prices has again concentrated popular attention on the struggle for existence, and leaves little energy for political optimism or serious consideration.

Coal Situation Bad

The situation in the coal and iron industries remains bad. Saxony textile mill owners have threatened 200,000 workers with a lockout, which is to become effective September 1 if an agreement is not reached in the meantime.

Part of the railway workers are on strike. The building trades have been out for seven weeks, paralyzing much-needed house construction. Everywhere discontent and want are apparent.

The fact that the entire "sanctions territory" is being evacuated by French according to schedule brings no enthusiasm to Germany. It isn't that the Germans are satisfied. They simply are too weary.

Appeal Creates Interest

A certain amount of interest has been created by Dr. Hugo Eckener's appeal for funds for the building of a new Zeppelin. Dr. Eckener states what is generally admitted, that Zeppelins are really unfitted for war purposes, but magnifies their utility for traffic and scientific purposes.

Unfortunately, according to the treaty, the Germans cannot build even privately owned commercial airships of more than 30,000 cubic meters capacity, which is much too small. Dr. Eckener stated, however, that he was sure the intent would permit construction of larger craft if properly approached.—(Copyright, 1925, by Chicago Daily News Company).

Big Dakota Farmer Wears Huge Shoes

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 25.—A pair of special made 15½ size shoes are being completed by a local merchant for a 250-pound South Dakota farmer at a cost of $20. The shoes, when completed, will have required two days' labor and will be of kangaroo hide. They will be 14 inches long and have a spread of five inches at the widest point.

NO ACTION IS TAKEN TO BAN CLOSED TENTS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—Despite a recommendation of the chamber of commerce to the city board of trustees that they pass an ordinance prohibiting the erection of closed tents on the beach here, the council failed to take action on the matter at a meeting last night.

The chamber of commerce passed a resolution in favor of the closed tents at their regular noon luncheon yesterday. Joseph Vavra, a member of the board of directors of the civic body, in a strong argument, declared that closed tents tended to make the beach insanitary.

City trustees took the recommendation of the chamber under advisement until the next meeting, which will be held at the city hall Sept. 7.

The council refused to act on the passage of an ordinance some time ago when the Huntington Beach company, owners of the land, requested that such an ordinance be passed. The Huntington Beach company accompanied their demand at that time with a notice to the effect that the company as the owner of the land, could close the beach to the public if the company so wished, or that the company could rent the beach front to private firms who would charge the public for the privilege of sitting on the sand.

Although the company representative did not state that the owners would take the step, the city trustees viewed the communication as a threat to close the beach front, just in case the outcome will be still in doubt.

The board of city trustees also refused to continue band concerts in the future. The contract with the band expires Sunday. Trustees have tentatively agreed to remove the band stand from the beach, where it is situated on Huntington Beach company property. The Huntington Beach company recently requested the removal of the band stand so that the company could locate an amusement apparatus on the ground. City trustees found that funds were not available at that time to remove the stand.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL NEWS OF ORANGE

ORANGE, Aug. 25.—Miss Nellie White has returned to Minnesota for the summer to attend to business at their ranch home. She expects to return this fall. She accompanied Mrs. M. G. Goodner and her daughter, Ruth, who have been visiting Mrs. Goodner's mother, Mrs. John Cossairt, and her brother W. M. Whitney. The latter are returning to their home in Faith, S. Jails Himself To Break Booze Habit

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 25.—Prompted by what he said was a desire to break his habit of drinking "jackass" brandy, A. Snider, a laborer, staggered into the sheriff's office today and demanded that he be locked up in jail until his craving for liquor ceased.

He was informed the city jailers would be glad to accommodate him.

"Well," said Snider, "maybe you're right, but I've got some evidence on me and I'd better destroy it."

He brought forth about a half pint of "jackass" brandy and gulped it down before the astonished deputy sheriffs. Then he staggered across to the city jail where he was promptly permitted to remain—indeinitely.

"KERNELS" BY THE COLONEL

Well, we've had our rodeo now, and we feel somewhat better, although another is scheduled for Capistrano in the near future.

The word "rodeo" is really not "rodeo" at all, according to an editorial in yesterday's Register. It's "row-day-oh" with accent on the "day" and with the "oh" trailing off at the end like the backend of a tornado.

Back east it's "ro-deo," but as we move farther west, the accent on the syllables also moves west, so by the time we get to California, it's "row-day-oh." The reason the "day" is pronounced louder than the other syllables in this state is because you have to wait a day between each event.

But the "row-day-oh" was a success. Lots of folks enjoyed it and it probably will be a yearly event with the Irvine boys. More power to them. (Just like the 100 year old man.)

One of the usual contests, that of tying up of the calf, took one cowboy an unusually long time, in the estimation of a gentleman in the grandstand, who, when the cowboy held up his hands as a signal that he had finished (either that or the fact that he recognized in the grandstand an unfriendly sheriff), stood up and yelled: "Time, 30 minutes, 18 seconds."

Dear Colonel:—Did you get this over your radio—I mean your rodeo?

The announcer said: "Bill Jones coming out of the chute on Sagehen." The chute opened and instead of coming out bucking, the mean old outlaw laid down in the stall. Some voice in the 50-cent-a-seat grandstand yelled, "That's a setting sagehen," and another loud voice called out, "Sagehen had to stop to lay an egg."

Just the same, there was more bull-singing at the rodeo Sunday than we have heard or seen in a long, long time. County fair advocates included.

By the way, colyum readers, Mister A. M. Stanley, the one with the big hat, has mailed the Colonel a couple of "comps" to the county fair, so now can say will be present. Took lots of work and a long time to get those tickets, but they're here.

WHAT AMERICA NEEDS MOST

"More automobile salesmen who can see value in our old boats, on a trade in."

"Dear Colonel:—What we want to know is—if it's against the law to congregate on the streets, who's going to put the cops in jail?"

L. M.

Sh— this is just a report, BUT—we understand that if the girl is unusually good looking, she is subjected by the motor cops to a severe driving test when applying for a driver's license, but if she's homely (and bless their hearts, some are), her word that she is a "peachy" driver is sufficient.

The cops figure that if she's good looking, she's in fine form and everything's O. K.

Next week is "house-cleaning week" at the Y. M. C. A. It is announced that the bathrooms will be kept open during this period, which is certainly in keeping with the slogan.

And won't Ralph Smedley look good in a duster and an apron.

At the same time, a story in yesterday's Register was to the effect that "R. E. Yeatter, local vacuum sweeper salesman, who is well known in Y. M. C. A. circles here," is leaving town.

Apparently he cleaned up and is moving to a better location.

Dear Colonel:—See Officer Barnhill when he returns and if he will give you inside dope on our visit to Vancouver, it will certainly be worth a couple inches in the column.—Postcards, Horace Fine, from Canada. Now Horace! ! !

KIDNAPING STIRS FOREIGN OFFICE

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The foreign office is taking a serious view of the kidnapping of British missionaries and the assassination of Lalo Chung-Kai. Foreign Minister Austen Chamberlain broke off his vacation and returned to London to consider the implication of the crisis.

Instructions have been issued by British representatives in Canton and Peking to ascertain the exact meaning of the Chinese regulations forbidding the entrance of British and Japanese ships into Canton harbor, with a view to immediate action should the occasion warrant.

London thinks that urgent representations to Peking are necessary now, especially because of the suspicion, apparently entirely substantiated, that Bolshevik propaganda has been designed to embroil Great Britain in Chinese disorders.

Mr. Chamberlain is receiving the opinions of legal advisors at the foreign offices whether Peking and Canton should be held responsible. Also, it is understood that he is in close telegraphic touch with Prime Minister Baldwin, who is taking a vacation at Aix Les Bains.

The kidnapping of British missionaries indicates that some parts of China are no longer safe for foreigners and a dangerous situation is likely to result. Therefore, the opinion is widely held that the time has come for Chamberlain to take definite action.

CITY MADE BY CITIZENSHIP IS PASTOR'S VIEW

It is not resources that make a city, but its citizenship. Dr. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, declared in a talk at the Junior chamber of commerce dinner meeting, at Ketter's cafe, last night.

"It is because they lacked the finer things of life that the ancient cities became nothing," said Dr. Porter. "When everyone works together and does his bit toward the community's welfare, a city progresses."

"We must realize that all of us have a part in the upbuilding of our community, and that, if any of us shirk our civic duties, our city slips back just that much."

Measures for Prosperity
The things that help make a city grow and prosper are a friendly attitude on the part of the business houses, good schools, well attended churches and a proper home life.

"If the business firms in a city are cold, the new arrival or tourist soon detects this attitude and the city suffers as a result," declared Dr. Porter. "Every city must have good schools, for we all know what education is essential. We need more and more religion, more brotherly love for one another. We need more home life in our cities. It is not fine furniture or pictures that make a home, but the spirit that is in the home."

"We may not make Santa Ana the greatest city in the world, but we can make it a city that every citizen in it will be proud of."

Stanley Talks on Fair

A brief talk on the Orange County fair to be held on the Union Pacific's property in Santa Ana, September 22 to 26, was given by A. M. Stanley, manager. As a result of the fair chief's talk, the majority of the chamber members present agreed to wear the big hats which Stanley and other officials of the fair have been wearing. President Stanley Clem also appointed a committee, consisting of George Seovel, Harry Bladen and William Iverson, to go with Stanley to the various luncheon clubs and request their support in the hat-wearing campaign.

Stanley asserted that the Los Angeles County fair organization "stole" the Orange County fair's dates.

"If every person in the county comes to our Orange County fair, we will break even," declared Stanley. "We will have stiff competition from the fair at Pomona."

Historical Allegory

Among the features at the fair will be an allegory, which will depict the history of the county in song, pantomime and dance. Written two years ago by Miss Jennie Lasby, the allegory contains scenes which will be both instructive and entertaining, Stanley said. The chamber decided to retain the original itinerary mapped out for the friendship tour, September 9, San Bernardino, Redlands and several other cities that requested that they be included on the trip.

will be visited at a later date.

Next Program Committee
The program for next meeting will be arranged by a committee consisting of Arthur Hervey, chairman; Kenneth Van Slyck, Ernest Winbiger and William McElhanon.

Entertainment last evening consisted of vocal solos by Reginald Taylor, piano numbers by 11-year-old Edward Stovall, vocal solos by the Misses Gertrude and Henrietta Scheffer, and numbers on the euphonium by Richard Taylor. Miss Dorothy Hurd and E. M. Sundquist were accompanists.

T. F. Ham, chairman of the tour lunch committee, announced this morning that arrangements have been made whereby lunch will be eaten at the Mission Inn, Riverside.

Advertise Your Qualifications

If YOU were a business man would you be satisfied with the way your clothes advertise you?

Does your dress advertise you as a man sure of himself; as one of decision, of good taste, of accuracy, of confidence, of radicalism, of caution, of conservatism, of dependability, of extravagance, of meanness, of frankness, of freakishness, of slovenliness, of vigor, of ability—for all these are shown by dress.

Good dress—proper dress—clean, neat apparel—is an advertisement that sells the individual to the world. Any man who succeeds, despite a good appearance, is the exception that proves the rule.

How are you advertising yourself today?

Save Our Forests!

SOFT rolling hills of green—gently wooded slopes, magnificent forest giants uprearing to the stars. A glorious playground that belongs to us all, a vital assurance of our water supply—almost beyond valuation. Then, suddenly—a blazing match carelessly tossed aside, a cigarette dropped from some speeding car and all is turned into a raging holocaust—a blackened, arid waste for many years to come.

Let us all, by rigidly observing a few simple rules, help the brave men who are devoting their lives to the preservation of our forests. According to these men, over 75% of all forest fires are caused by carelessness—criminal carelessness when one thinks of the appalling, unnecessary loss; the suffering and the many years before regrowth of the wasted and devastated areas. This year let us all remember, never throw away a lighted cigarette or cigar; never drop a match without first breaking it in two; never leave a camp fire unattended or go away before putting it out with water and covering it with earth.

VOLCK

You can tell VOLCK-sprayed groves by their clean thrifty appearance

You can go into almost any citrus area in California and pick out the VOLCK-sprayed groves by their clean, thrifty, vigorous appearance. They stand out in sharp contrast to the groves where pest control has been attempted with other methods or materials, or where the grower has not attempted to control the pests at all.

The foliage is a deeper, cleaner green. New growth is unusually abundant. The fruit is clean and attractive. And there is a uniformly good setting of the crop.

This effect becomes more pronounced as groves are sprayed with VOLCK thru successive seasons. It is the result, in part at least, of the fact that the trees are allowed to develop free from the devastating effect of the scale, the leaves are cleaned of smut and allowed to function properly, new growth is not burned or retarded, and the trees are allowed to grow and develop unhampered by the pests or by methods used to control the pests.

Every grower knows that clean thrifty trees produce the most and best fruit. And growers are rapidly discovering that VOLCK produces clean thrifty trees. It should be applied now, when the hatch is young and can be most economically controlled.

INTERNATIONAL TONGUE URGED BY S. A. MAN AS AID TO PEACE

A. B. Rousselle, Home From World Journey, Declares Good Will Sought

LEAGUE ENTRANCE IS DESIRED BY POWERS

Admission of United States Is Favored by Countries, Traveler Maintains

Adoption of English as the universal language, making it the accepted medium of expression between individuals of different nations, and extension of travel on the part of individuals in different countries, are two agencies, which, in the opinion of A. B. Rousselle, local real estate broker, would pave the way for international good will and enduring peace.

Discussing his impressions acquired during his recent trip around the world, he said that he found the peoples of the Old World thoroughly sick and tired of war and war talk. This attitude of mind, he added, has made them quite responsive to the need of an intelligent understanding of problems as they exist, coupled with an intelligent appreciation how such problems may affect other countries.

Pass Boundary Lines

"The thinking people of Europe, as represented by its middle class of professional and business men, have passed the narrow limits of national boundary lines in their search for measures that will establish economic and political equilibrium, and are looking to international co-operation," he asserted.

Continuing, he went on to say that the people of Europe, particularly professional and business men, are earnestly hoping that the United States will abandon its policy of isolation and give its moral support to the League of Nations and the proposed world court.

Change Overnight

"They realize that as a whole the American people are averse to entangling alliances and would not sanction any policy that would commit them to participation in military operations. But they contend that if the American nation would lend its unqualified moral support to the League of Nations movement, thus indirectly serving notice on the world that it stands for the preservation of peace, there would be a change over night for the better."

The adoption of one universal language, preferably English, because of its widespread use throughout the world, would go far to disseminate news of world affairs among the classes and the masses, and in this way neutralize harmful propaganda designed to stir up strife and national prejudices, Rousselle explained.

Should Travel More

Another agency which would serve to break down pre-conceived prejudices and erroneous impressions of things and conditions in other countries would be extension of travel on the part of the individual citizen, he concluded.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN COUNTY FAIR FANCYWORK

Needlework at the Orange county fair is unusually excellent according to Mrs. W. B. McConnell, chairman of the domestic department. Insert shows Nadine Hartfield preparing embroidery work for the junior exhibit.

NEEDLEWORK IS PREPARED FOR FAIR EXHIBITS

"Needlework makes the home, and Orange county is a community of homes." This is the view of Mrs. W. B. McConnell, chairman of the domestic art and needlework department of the Orange county fair.

"Go into a home some place where there is no needlework, then go into an Orange county home with its pretty runners, embroidery, table cloths, boudoir scarfs and pillows and this truth will be impressive. I might almost say: 'Where the art is there the home is.'"

"Not only are Orange county women fond of boudoir pillows but today they are demanding more and more embroidery on their dresses, ready-to-wear garments and lingerie. Besides, the schools are stressing needlework more each year. It is no wonder that Orange county home life reacts favorably upon domestic arts and there is more poise and less nervousness among our women than those of more crowded communities."

Mrs. McConnell welcomes everyone to enter work in the fair exhibit. There is so much variety in the premium list that no one need hold back, feeling her work is "not good enough," said Mrs. McConnell. There is the children's list and a number of specialties including a new prize for stamped goods. Young and old will be interested in the quilt and rug department, for there are many quilt makers in this section. Spanish art, especially crochet work, is available here. San Juan Capistrano, especially, produces good Spanish work and the people in that community are being invited to enter work in the fair exhibits again this year. Among the interesting exhibits of the year will be five sofa pillows made by a man living in Costa Mesa, who is a returned soldier incapacitated for any thing more strenuous than needle work.

China painting is as popular as ever and many local women, said Mrs. McConnell, are preparing exhibits for the fair.

PLANS TO BUILD FACTORY IN S. A.

Samuel Chinn, a mechanical engineer, formerly of Wakefield, Neb., now registered at Hotel Santa Ana, is the inventor of a wheel-puller, which is considered by experts in mechanical lines to be far superior to anything of its kind now on the market.

Chinn is now making arrangements to place his invention on the market, and has decided that Santa Ana is the logical place for a factory of this kind, providing a suitable site can be obtained. He added that if a site is not available, arrangements will be made with a local factory to turn out the product temporarily.

He also made it known that negotiations have been entered into with one of the largest jobbing houses operating in the United States to handle the distribution of the product.

Chinn also holds a patent on a carburetor, which, he claims, will revolutionize the automobile trade. The carburetor will be manufactured in the proposed Santa Ana plant, it is asserted.

M'DILL RESIGNS AS SECRETARY OF BOYS' WORK

Y. M. C. A. Official Gives Up Work Here to Accept Position in San Jose

James A. McDill, for nearly two years director of boys' work for the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., has presented his resignation. In order to accept a similar position with the Y. M. C. A. of San Jose. His resignation was accepted with regret by the local board of directors at a meeting held yesterday, and McDill will be released to take up his new duties about September 1.

McDill came to Santa Ana from Long Beach, where he had made a successful record of service as boys' director in the Y. M. C. A. He came here before the opening of the new building, and has had a part in the development and organization of the work from the beginning. In the Lions club, in church work, and in various other relations in the city and county, McDill has been active.

The local association has been reluctant to lose McDill from its force of secretaries, but the opportunity for advancement in the San Jose work seemed to require the change.

T. P. McKee, assistant boys' director, was named director of boys' work to succeed McDill, and he will assume the duties September 1. It is the purpose of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. to promote the work for boys in so far as possible without diminishing its efficiency, in spite of the reduction in secretarial help, but it is likely that the change will be keenly felt in the extension of the work as the rush of the busy season comes on. The boys of the Hi-Y clubs and the Junior College Y. M. C. A. will especially feel the loss of McDill's help, as he has been their particular counselor and leader for the last two years, it is pointed out.

Cockroaches Lead To Riches In Mine

MEXICO CNTY, Aug. 25.—Back in the days of the Spanish adventures some of Cortes' men named a mine the "cockroach mine" because of the innumerable roaches that infested the region.

Later, however, the mine was abandoned, and the opening sealed up and forgotten.

Recently an old prospector in the territory noticed a rock swarming with cockroaches. Remembering the old story of the Spanish mine, he followed the trail of the bugs, and found the old mine, which now is being worked.

The mine is situated in the mountains near Durango.

Tobacco Quid Is Means of Escape

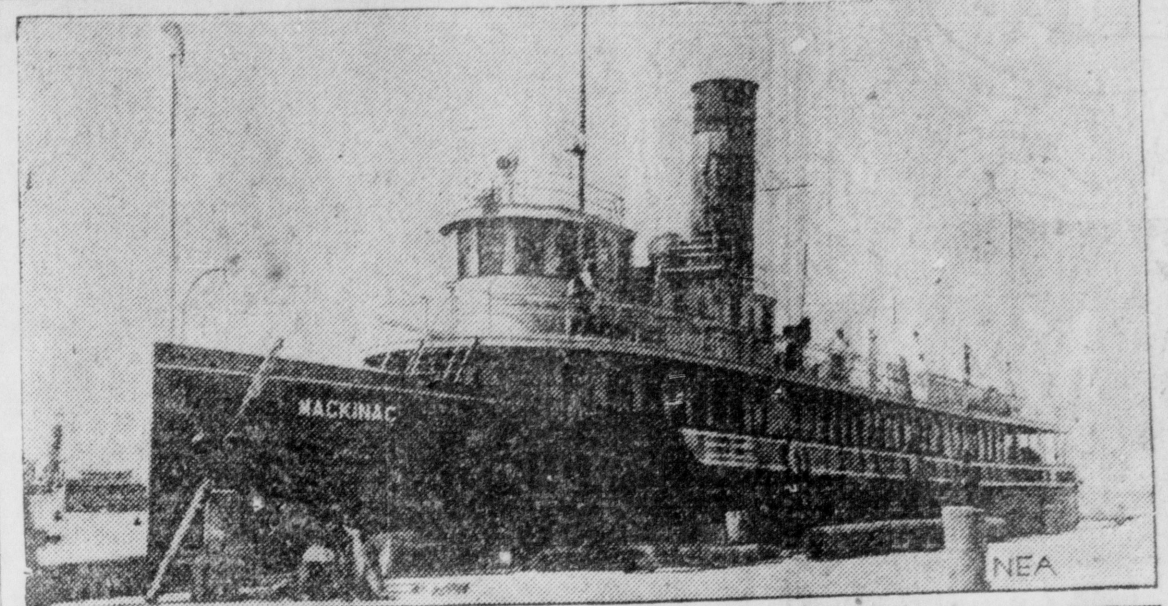

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—A chew of tobacco was the instrument whereby Henry Schleuter, a burglar suspect, escaped from Chief of Police Carl Lewis, of San Bruno, Lewis and his prisoner were dining in a San Bruno restaurant.

"I've got to spit out this tobacco, chief," explained Schleuter.

"Sure," replied Schleuter, permitting his man to go unescorted to the sidewalk. Schleuter jumped into an automobile and kept going. Lewis commanded another machine and chased him, but was outdistanced.

PICNIC BOAT OF DEATH AND TWO HEROES OF STEAMSHIP DISASTER

SANTA ANA MAN SAYS NEBRASKA CROPS ARE FAIR

Crop conditions in Nebraska are fair this year, according to W. A. Taylor, local business man, who returned this week from an extended visit to that state. The crops will be spotted, he said, some localities having wonderful prospects of corn, and others having none at all.

Agricultural conditions in northeastern Colorado are very good, according to Taylor. "A continuous procession of farmers hauling $1.40 wheat can be seen at most of the elevators," he said.

Much thought is being given to irrigation possibilities of the Platte river, in Nebraska, he reported. Many engineering and civic organizations are at work on plans which may divert the flood waters of that stream into reservoirs for irrigation purposes. Business men in that section of the middle west are not optimistic as to the future outlook of the country, and favor some irrigation plan of this sort, he said.

Church Painters Defied by Bees

YREKA, Calif., Aug. 25.—For two days after the time fixed for the beginning of the painting of the Granada Community church, the church went unpainted, all because of a sturdy swarm of bees that held the fort, or rather, the church.

When the church was completed a year ago, a queen bee, with an eye to the future, led her swarm to the church and established a home between the partitions. Granada is in the heart of the alfalfa region of Shasta valley and the swarm being an industrious one, there were pounds of honey the bees insisted belonged to them by right of work.

The Rev. E. L. Spuller thought otherwise, but he was no single-handed match for the insect invaders, so he scoured the country until he could find L. Calame, of Montague, apiarist. Together, the men dislodged the bees. Calame took the swarm to his apiary. Rev. Spuller took the golden store to his home, and the painting is progressing rapidly.

Upper—The Mackinac, picnic boat on which almost a half hundred persons met their death in a boiler explosion, is shown at the naval pier, Newport, R. I., where she was towed after the tragedy which turned a merry excursion of 677 persons into a great catastrophe. Such was the peculiar nature of the explosion that outwardly the ship bears no marks of the disaster and lies at the pier as though ready for another trip. Lower—Here are the outstanding heroes of the rescue work, Seamen Harvey Peterson (left), of Olean, N. Y., and Carl Townsend, of Brevard, N. C. Wearing asbestos suits, they proceeded from the U. S. S. Wyoming and worked in the hot steam to get the wounded ashore.

Suspend Deputy As Outcome Of Clubhouse Raid

As an outcome of his alleged fracas with Orange county deputy sheriffs when the latter raided the Long Beach County club, near Westminster, several weeks ago, Gilbert C. Blaisdell, Los Angeles county deputy sheriff, has been suspended according to word received here today.

Orange county officers declared that the Los Angeles officer attempted to block the local officers in their raid. Blaisdell also is alleged to have attempted to strike Ed McCellan, who led the raiding party.

GRAND OPERA TO BE PLAYED BY CITY BAND

Several features are on the grand opera program to be presented by the Santa Ana Municipal band tonight. The opening march, "Petiteonia," is the composition of Freeman Bloodgood, Santa Ana man, who will, himself, play in the band.

Ray Miles, well known local tenor, and Miss Dorothy Hurd, accompanist, also are scheduled to appear.

Probably the heaviest number to be played by the band will be the selection from "Cavalleria Rusticana," by Mascagni. The closing march, "The Fascisti," was the one which prompted a letter of appreciation from Premier Mussolini, of Italy, to Director Cianfoni some years ago.

The program follows: March, "Petiteonia," Freeman Bloodgood; Overture, "Orpheus," Offenbach; Serenade, Franz Drda; Selection, "Faust," Gounod; Vocal solo, "The Call," Spross, by Ray Miles, tenor; Miss Dorothy Hurd, accompanist; Concert waltz "Lisetta," Pultrery; Selection, "Cavalleria Rusticana," Mascagni; Triumphant march, "The Fascisti," Cianfoni.

500 APPLICATIONS SENT TO CAPITAL

Capt. Henry Warner, Chief Of County Patrol, to Select Another Date

Fifty per cent of the applicants for new drivers' licenses, who were given tests by state motorcycle officers yesterday, were women.

More than half of the applicants were under age. Almost 25 per cent of them were 16 years old and under.

Forty applicants were tested as to their ability to drive an automobile, yesterday's tests being the first of a series which will be held on one day of each week, under the new state law, which went into effect late in July.

Capt. Henry S. Warner, head of the county patrol here, together with five of his officers, are busy examining new applicants, and the office has been overrun during the last several days.

Submit 500 Applications. More than 500 applications have been sent to Sacramento since the new law went into effect, and the first 40 were returned several days ago, allowing officers to examine them yesterday.

Following are the persons who were tested yesterday and who were presented reports for mailing to Sacramento, from where a driver's license will be sent to them:

Oh! Dry Those Tears!

There is no rebound. Lincoln Shock Absorbers will not snub.

In childhood's days, when our nickels fell through a grating in the sidewalk, we suffered gratefully. Those pangs sometimes found considerable able expression.

When adult estate arrived, there remained a tendency to weep loudly if things did not "pan out" as we had hoped. There was ample cause in many instances.

In automobile tire manufacture, much time and experiment entered into the game before the pneumatics won by such a large mileage score. Today you get so much mileage from good tires that you naturally expect it.

With Diamonds you certainly expect it. The factory knows you will get it and we personally guarantee that instead of tears, you'll wear a fine tire-smile.

STAGE AND SCREEN

Chicago Vaudeville trio which appears at Yost today and tomorrow

YOST THEATER

The old time popular Dutch comedian is coming back. In fact he is here, in the person of Joe Jenny who for many years was an outstanding comedian in the old time musical comedies. With his funny little cackle which made him famous in years past he will be seen with his "Empire Comedy Four" at the Yost theater with the Association Vaudeville show which plays here Tuesday and Wednesday. The quartet is composed of a typical old "legit" or tragedian character; a monocular Englishman; a straight or the bowery type and Joe himself in his world famous Dutch makeup. They have a repertoire of original comedy songs and talk all of which has been constructed to produce laughs and in this respect they succeed vociferously.

The Dance "A-La-Graphonola" as arranged by Casson Brothers and Marie is a decidedly unique offering by a clever trio, each member of which is a creator of dance steps, so that the combination makes up a number that pleases in originality and terseness of effort. Miss Marie is a very attractive artist exuding daintiness and grace in every step.

If the "nuts" come from Brazil as has been stated on divers occasions, then Charlie Leland and St. Claire is a native born Brazilian. They call their act "The Nut and The Reason." Miss St. Claire is the reason and those who witness their work will agree that he cannot be blamed for being nutty over Rena. They mix song, dance and talk in delightful portions.

After witnessing the acrobatic offering of the DeRoe Trio, which should properly be called a quartet, because Bobby the Little French poodle does a star part, most everyone will say that the concentrated bit of canine walks off with the honors. Bobby while calmly reposing on his master's shoulders bears the entire weight of a full grown man who peacefully poses on his head on top of the dog. He seems to be able to bear up under the weight without any effort whatever.

One xylophone and a good operator can usually satisfy any audience when it comes to snappy instrumental numbers but two good operators, especially if they are attractive Spanish girls like Winifred and Lucille, more than double the value of the act and succeed in putting it over with a bang! They have a diversified program of popular, jazz and semi-classical numbers which give the necessary amount of musical pep to an already satisfactory bill.

WALKER THEATER

By Reviewer

The critic of today would have to go some if he were to find fault with the entertainment given this week at the Walker theater. Harry Carroll and his troupe of comedienne and funnymen have what seems to be an inexhaustible supply of wit, melody and dancing ability. There is no dull moment in the entire performance.

Bert Wheeler and Betty, well-known on the Orpheum circuit, bring down the house—and Bert lies down on the stage to do it. He proved a regular fellow to all kids in the front seats yesterday and will continue to do so the remainder of the week, probably. His unaffected style of telling jokes is more than any man's tickler can stand without collapsing.

Sidney Landfield springs a new one on his audience when he introduces pianologues with a one-armed accompaniment. Nobody knows where he learned the trick, but we do know that it is good. He knows as well as Bert Wheeler, that youngsters are at the matinees, and he aims to please them as well as the older folks.

Harry Carroll and his swaying dancing girls are in the class of the superlative. His male dancers are not slow, and when it comes to jigging, they are all proficient. The prologues, with exquisite lighting effects put on by Carroll are well worth seeing. His finale, a take-off on the California Diamond Jubilee, is a beautiful, as well as comical performance. In this nearly all of the company of artists appear.

"Tame Men and Wild Women," and Richard Talmadge in the "Mysterious Stranger" are features on the cinema program, which are as good as their titles sound. There have been many stories of stage stars achieving success after years of study, disappointments and tribulations. That seems to be the usual road to the top. But here is a young girl who attained the elusive honors of the footlights in the very short time of one year. She is Miss Dottie Wilson, the very charming tiny dancer in Harry Carroll's new revue at the Walker theater this week.

Miss Wilson is just eighteen years old now. When she was sixteen she knew nothing about dancing and never dreamed of going on the stage. Swinging her schoolbooks in Cleveland, O., and perhaps indulging in a little skip on the lawn with the other girls, she attracted the attention of a rather wealthy woman, who was very interested in the theater arts. This woman sent Dottie to New York for six months' study. From dancing school she went right into the chorus of the Ziegfeld "Follies," where her clever dancing and wistful charm were so apparent that she was given a part in the musical comedy, "Tell Me More."

Meanwhile her skill and stage appeal were so heightened by even this brief experience, that when Harry Carroll selected his cast for his splendid new issue of this annual revue, he chose Miss Wilson for one of the leading parts. And all this in the short space of one year.

Miss Wilson is a dancer. In the "Charleston" she is as clever a stepper as she is cute in appearance. Of small but perfect proportions her daintiness and agility are as delightful to the eye as a dancing sunbeam. But being an ambitious miss she is now studying singing, and in the vaudeville act she appears in several comedy scenes, where her naive manners and shy speech betoken a future star comedienne.

WALKER THEATER

Tomorrow night at the Walker's Theater, Harry Carroll, who is appearing in his new revue, will conduct a Charleston contest in which Miss Dottie Wilson, said to be the world's undefeated champion, challenges all comers.

Those wishing to take part in the contest can leave their names with Mr. Carroll as late as 8 p. m. tomorrow night. To those winning the first three places, cash gold prizes will be offered, according to the management. Also, at tomorrow's matinee Mr. Carroll will conduct a kiddies' Charleston contest, which will be open to all children in Orange county. Cash gold prizes will be given to the winners, also an opportunity to appear later with Mr. Carroll at his new theater now under construction in Los Angeles, those in charge promise.

MAN'S LEG BROKEN WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Fred Magel, 1330 Grand Avenue, Santa Ana, suffered a broken leg and several minor injuries at 6 p. m. yesterday, when he was run down by an automobile driven by Will A. Davis, 3529 North Broadway, Los Angeles, according to a report on file at the sheriff's office. The accident occurred one mile south of Tustin, on the San Diego highway.

Magel was taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where his condition was reported as satisfactory today.

According to Davis' report of the accident, Magel jumped from a truck directly in the path of his machine. He swerved to one side but not soon enough to avoid striking the man.

Davis reported that he was traveling 30 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

GLASS SNAKES
WASHINGTON.—Origin of the story of glass, or jointed snakes lies in the fact that there is a legless lizard, which looks like, but is not a snake, which has a very brittle tail. Frequently pieces of the tail are broken off and lost. While the lizard can not rejoin its broken tail, it can and does grow a new tail, which gives rise to the story.

CY WILLIAMS FALLS DOWN IN HOMER ART

The aged swimmer makes the long swim each summer, usually on her birthday.

PITTSBURGH IN MANY ENTRIES SAFE LEAD FOR IN GOLF MEET CHAMPIONSHIP NEXT MONDAY

BY HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Little is left now of the National league pennant race but the shouting that will acclaim the Pittsburgh Pirates as the new champions.

The Giants not only are six games behind the Pirates but they are only 2½ games ahead of the Cincinnati Reds and may finish in third place.

The 1924 champions looked lickered in yesterday's game when they were beaten badly for the fourth time in five games. They blew sky high.

On the other hand, although any good team looks good in victory, the Pirates looked like champions and played that way. There can be no doubt that it is the best team in the National league and the players have taken on that feel of superiority that they lacked last year.

With a commanding lead of six games and a demoralizing Giant team as its closest contender, the Pittsburgh club has little to worry about. They have only to play 500 baseball for the remainder of the season to force the Giants to win 23 out of 32 games to nose them out of the lead.

Mathematically, the Pirates have a six game lead, but actually they have a bigger advantage, as the Giants have lost nine more games than they have and the Giants have six games less to play than the Pirates. They have won 12 out of the 19 games played with the Giants and there are only three more games to be played with them.

With such a rich prize so close to their hands, the Pirates hardly will slow up in the stretch and it isn't likely that the club will fall into any slump that would make it possible for the Giants or the Reds to overtake them.

La Barba to Have Rest Says Manager

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Following the prevalent custom among boxing champions, Fido LaBarba today packed his newly acquired flyweight title in benzoin of soda and camphor balls.

This was made plain by the attitude of George Blake, his manager, when he received a letter from Jimmy De Forest for a return match between La Barba and Frankie Genaro at the Polo Ground in New York City on September 25.

"La Barba has earned a rest," said Blake. "I will not consider any matches for at least a month. I will be glad to let him fight in New York or any place after that but I think there is plenty of work for him on the coast fighting the good bantamweights."

By JOE WILLIAMS

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 25.—Monday, August 31, will be a very sad day in the history of the lives of many of our most promising amateur golfers, for of the 128 good players who will start in the qualifying test of the national amateur championship at the Oakmont Country club, only 16 can possibly survive for the match play.

Thus on Tuesday evening, when the 36 holes have been completed, more than 100 good golfers will have to return to their home towns and continue to club in the spotlight of local honors.

Everyone of these more than 100 golfers who fail to qualify will have at one time or another played golf courses in par figures, for if they were not that good they would not have been permitted to start at Oakmont. The United States Golf association is getting very strict about the starters in this event.

So this year the national amateur championship is to be a very highly specialized tournament, with only 16 players going into the match play instead of the usual 32.

When 32 qualified the good players gathered with some confidence making the grade and of returning to their home cities with the prestige of having qualified for the national.

But this year it will be an acid test, even for the big stars, for they cannot afford to drop many strokes and hope to be among the first 16.

Never before has the business of guessing the list of qualifiers taken up so much attention among the golfers everywhere, for in other years they took it for granted that the real stars would all get by the preliminary test. But this year it is different.

Picking 16 qualifiers in this field is a very entertaining form of amusement of those who follow golf.

Bobby Jones of Atlanta, present champion and greatest of all medal players, looks like a sure thing. Everyone who hopes to win one of the many prizes which newspapers and magazines have offered for clients who name the most qualifiers will pick Jones. That will be easy.

Among others who will be generally selected are Francis Ouimet, George Von Elm, Chick Evans, W. C. Fowmes Jr. and Bob Gardner. That gives the crossword puzzle people four to start on. From this point on the guessing becomes more spectacular.

The writer next would name Chick Evans and W. C. Fowmes Jr. They have always qualified before and they probably will this time. Although in Chicago they say Chick has slipped a little.

At least there is plenty of background behind for those who wish to add Evans and Fowmes to their selections. If they fail, they will not miss the mark by much; that is certain.

From this point on there is bound to be a wide variety of opinion, based on sectional pride and knowledge. One man's guess is likely to be as good as another, but unless someone should accuse us of lacking in nerve we give a complete listing of the 16 we expect to see in the match play at Oakmont.

Bobby Jones, Francis Ouimet, George Von Elm, Chick Evans, W. C. Fowmes Jr. and Bob Gardner, for reasons mentioned above.

P. W. Whittemore, Brookline; Jess Sweetser, New York; Jesse Guilford, Boston; Fred Wright Jr., Boston; D. Clark Cochran, Philadelphia; Arthur Yates, Rochester; Watts Gunn, Atlanta; Freddie Lamprecht, Cleveland and Harrison Johnson, St. Paul.

Piping 'Em Off

Yesterday's hero—Ted Blankenship, White Sox pitcher, held the Athletics to four hits and won his game 3 to 1.

The Giant defense collapsed under a six-run rally in the fifth inning and the Pirates won the final game of the series 3 to 2, increasing their lead to six full games.

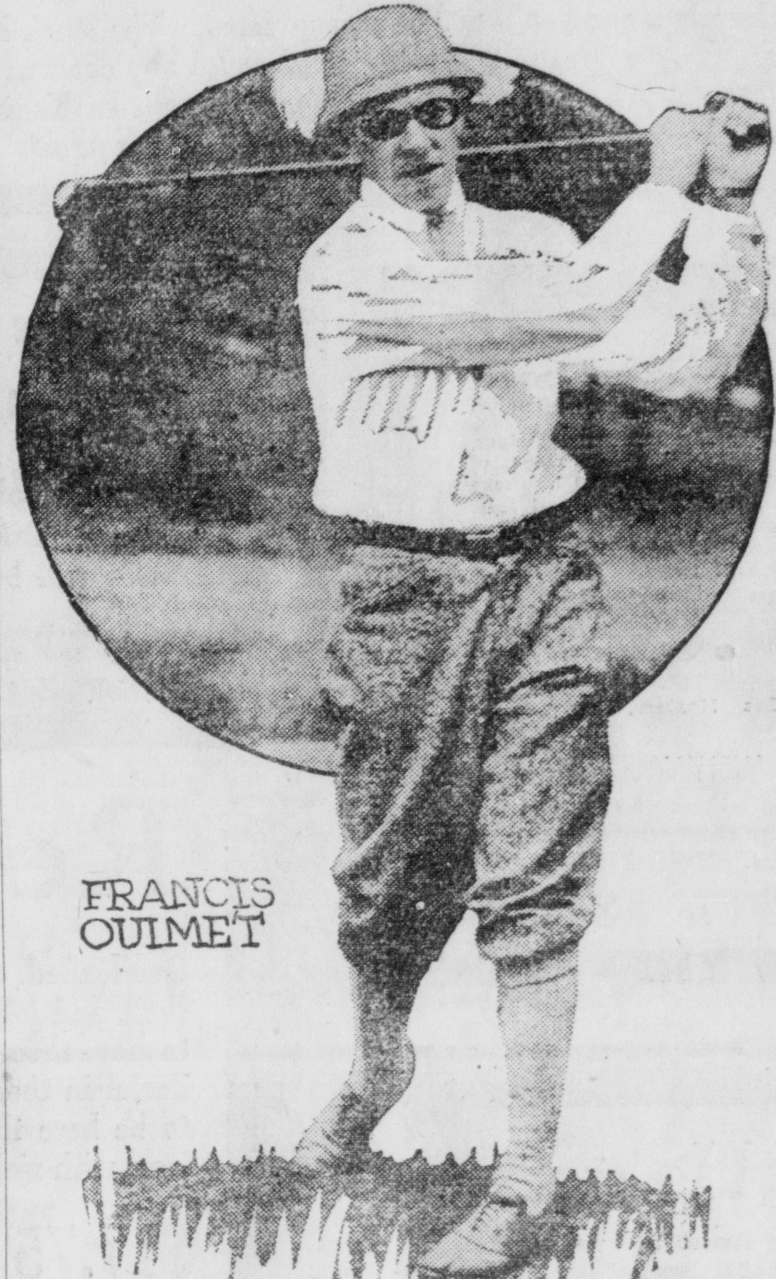

Heavy stick work off three pitchers gave the Tigers a 13 to 4 victory over the Senators.

Burlingame Grimes pitched the Robins to a 13 to 4 victory over the Cubs in the first game, but the Cubs grabbed the second 11 to 6.

Young Graham held the Reds to six scattered hits and the Braves won, 3 to 2.

Babe Ruth hit his third homer in three days but the Yankees could not deliver and they dropped their fifth game in a row, losing to the Indians, 3 to 1.

POPULAR OAKMONT FAN IS FORMIDABLE JONES RIVAL

Francis Ouimet is wearing "cheaters" this year—and playing better than ever. In the recent open event the former titleholder showed that he's in rare form. He'll be watching and from this distance looks like the chap to beat Bobby Jones if anyone is to turn the trick at the national amateur over the Oakmont course.

She had made seven miles in her fight with the tides.

Vernon-Oakland To Mix In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Vernon and Oakland will clash at Washington ball park in Los Angeles this week for the edification of the ball fans. The Tigers are going to try and display some of their newly found pep and take the series. If they win the series it will be their fourth one this year.

Los Angeles starts one of those "crucial" series in San Francisco today. If the Angels can take the big edge on the seven games to be played they will be crowding the Seals for league leadership.

In the season of 1897, Brown of the Louisville club set up a high record of 658 times at bat.

Plumb Wins Model Boat Race at Bay

Youthful Edward Plumb made secure his supremacy over junior yachtsmen of Balboa when he captured the championship of the model boat races in a title contest yesterday on Newport Bay.

The race, under the burgee of the Balboa Island Yacht club, was to decide a tie between Edward Plumb and William Merrill. The winner was pressed to the limit to gain the title.

In a special kicker race, first place was won by William Nutmeyer. He started against a fleet of five boats. Second was captured by Paul Hammond and third went to Robert Cheesewright.

More races in the yachting club trophy series are to be held tomorrow. "Bill" Murphy's Silver Star holds the lead in the model yachts series and seems likely to romp away with the prize. In the sailing boat contests, Dan Murphy's Wild Cat is waging a stiff battle against Robert Rollin's Flying Fish.

Stetcher's famous body scissors did the trick. The first fall came after 47 minutes 30 seconds of wrestling, and the second in 11 and a half minutes. The 230 pound Hindu, although possessed of terrific strength, was no match for his famous opponent.

Jim London, Greek, and Renato Gardini, Italian, wrestled to a one hour draw in the semi-windup. The two are feudists of long standing and slugged, gouged, bit, kicked and resorted to every rough tactic known to the game.

Abie Kaplan, said to be the only Jewish heavyweight wrestler, threw George McLeod of Nebraska with an arm lock and crotch hold in 15 minutes.

BIGGEST LOSS IS ON RECENT GIANT'S GAME

Weather Man Is Held For Exit of Record-breaking Crowd at Pirate Contest

By JOHN B. FOSTER (By Special Leased Wire, to The Register) (Copyright, 1925)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The biggest financial loss of the year in baseball took place last Friday in New York when the weather knocked out the double-header, with which the "crucial" series between the Giants and the Pirates was scheduled to start.

Messrs. Stoneham, of New York, and Dreyfus of Pittsburgh, saw approximately $60,000 washed away.

The Polo Grounds reservations were not sold to capacity although the greater part of the boxes were gone. The reserved seats were exhausted and the demand to see this double-header was so great that it had been planned to open the big stands at 11:45 o'clock. That means a capacity crowd with all standing room taken.

Fortunately for both teams there is an open date—yesterday—on which Pittsburgh can play in New York. Pittsburgh may not consider it fortunate, however, for if it were not for that open date a game would have to be carried over to Pittsburgh to complete the schedule between the two teams and Pittsburgh would much rather play the Giants on its own field.

Had it not been for the open Monday, only two playing days would have been left for Pittsburgh in New York and if by chance it had rained again, three games might have had to be transferred from New York to Pittsburgh, and Pittsburgh would have rioted in double headers with the Giants.

The Pittsburgh club may not be as confident as some would have it that it will win the 1925 championship of the National league. So often has the team been setback when it has seen a pennant in its grasp that its players have learned to be very conservative.

"You wouldn't say much either, if you had seen championships duck away as often as I have," said Pie Traynor of the Pirates. "But we've got something this year that we haven't always had and that is a comeback. It's our hitting that does it. We are batting better than we did in 1924. A club that helps its pitchers out with a few runs makes it easier for the pitchers, and gives them confidence to win games."

"Personally I was away down in 1924 but I've managed to do 30 per cent better, all things considered, and the other players have been hitting with uniformity and strength all season."

The Pittsburgh players certainly don't think they are going to run away with the pennant and Fred Clarke is trying to get them to forget that they need six or seven games lead to win a championship.

"You let those newspaper fellows figure all they want," he tells the Pirates. "They are going to figure anyhow. But you just get in there and win every game that is played—or at least keep fighting to the end of every game, and you'll get there. Don't set up spoons on sticks and try to catch them. You'll be chasing them at the end of the season if you do."

The Grand Central Market boys had hard luck last evening when they were visited by the Tustin nine on the high school lot. Although no complete report of the game was in early today, the final time of 6 to 2 gave Tustin the highest pitch.

According to spectators, it was a well earned victory.

Pacific Electric men and Raitt's dairy crew will clash this evening in the second class B battle of the week. Those who have watched the onslaught of the transportation boys from the sidelines the last few weeks are confident that they will put up another good scrap, but hope is outlawed in favor of a game which may have its ups and downs.

The Class A game between the Kiwanis and the Gas company sluggers will come on Thursday night of this week, according to Sid Allender, director of the indoor series. This game will decide a tie of many knots, and will prove one of the best of the week, undoubtedly.
